ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The author wishes to put on record his deep sense of gratitude to Dr. P.C. Goswami, Prof. & Head, Department of Agricultural Economics, Assam Agricultural University, Jorhat, for guiding the research work. Without his helpful suggestions and criticisms and constant encouragement the research work would not have been possible.

The author also expresses his sincere thanks to Dr. P.D. Saikia, Director, Agro-Economic Research Centre for North-East India, Jorhat, for his helpful suggestions and for extending facilities for carrying on the research in the Centre.

Thanks are also due to Dr. M. Saha, Shri C.K. Bora, Shri H.P. Khound and Shri D. Gohain for their useful comments and suggestions.

The author is also thankful to Shri K. Gogoi for helping him in a part of the field investigations and to Shri Jitendra Nath Dutta for typing the thesis. He is also thankful to all his colleagues in the Agro-Economic Research Centre for their constant encouragement and help.

The author must thank all the respondents and other inhabitants of the sample villages. Without their cooperation, the research would not have been possible.

The author is also thankful to the concerned Block Development Officers, Sub-Deputy Collectors and local Gaon Panchayats for their help in obtaining information.
