CHAPTER - 1
1. INTRODUCTORY ACCOUNT:

1.1. PREFACE:

Having been influenced by the history of my own heredity in the person of Vishagacharya Chakrapani Dutta, a renowned medicine man of Bengal during 15th century and inspired by Prof. Sudhangshu Chowdhury, former head of the department of Botany, Gauhati University (now retd.), the present investigation entitled "Ethno-medico botanical aspect of Reang tribe of Assam - a comprehensive study" was undertaken and has been presented for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in Botany under the Faculty of Science of Gauhati University. The work has been carried out under constant supervision of Prof. Sudhangshu Chowdhury and his sincere and regular guidance was the only means in reaching to the present form of the thesis. I would like to express my hearty indebtedness to Prof. Chowdhury. I am fortunate enough that I got the opportunity to work under the skillful guidance of Prof. Chowdhury at least for five years in bringing out the present work which otherwise would have remained incomplete. It is Prof. Chowdhury's inspiration which pushed me forward into the field of Ethno-medico botany away from my own field of specialization - 'Plant Physiology'. I express my sincere gratitude to Prof. Sudhangshu Chowdhury.

I also express my thanks to the Vice Chancellor of Gauhati University for the facilities provided to me for carrying out the present investigation. I am also grateful to the Head of the Deptt. of Botany, Gauhati University.
I would like to express my gratitude to the Principal and Head of the Deptt. of Botany, Karimganj College for according necessary permission to undertake the work.

I am also thankful to D.F.O. and other staff members of forest department of Cachar, Karimganj and Hailakandi districts for their help during the field trips.

I am thankful to the Deputy Director B.S.I. Eastern Circle, Shillong, for allowing me to consult Kanjilal Herbarium (ASSAM) for confirmation of identification of the collected species. I also thank Sri Sankar Das, Herbarium Assistant of B.S.I. Shillong, for his assistance during consultation of Herbarium.

My gratefulness is also due to the people of the Reang tribe whom I have come across during this investigation, specially the medicine men for their hearty co-operation without which it would not have been possible to collect information on medicinal plants.

My heartfelt thanks are also due to all my colleagues in the College, friends and all welwishers whose blessings were always with me during the period of this work.
I would like to thank the Chief Scientist of R.A.R.S., Karimganj and District Agriculture Officers of Cachar, Karimganj and Hailakandi districts for providing me the Geographical, Geological and Meteorological parameters of the area of investigation.

Lastly, I thank U.G.C. NER office for granting me a minor research project for carrying out a part of this work.

It will be ungrateful on my part not to mention here the help, inspiration and sacrifice from all the members of my family who allowed me to abstain from my family duties and thus provided me with sufficient time to devote to my work and studies. I express my indebtedness to all of them.
