ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I take this opportunity to express my deep sense of gratitude to my research guide, Dr. S. C. Dey, D. Sc.(Cal), FZS, Professor & Head of the Department of Zoology, Gauhati University for suggesting the topic and supervising the program throughout the course of investigation with rigour and subtlety.

The author is grateful to the Government of Sikkim and in particular to Shri N. B. Bhandari, Honourable Chief Minister of Sikkim for allowing her to carry out the present investigation and for providing necessary facilities during the period.

I hereby sincerely acknowledge my heartfelt gratitude to Sikkim Science Society especially to Dr. B. S. Basnett, the President of Sikkim Science Society for awarding me the research grant without which it would have been difficult to conduct the extensive field work and complete this important piece of work.

The author is also deeply indebted to the Department of Forests as well as Fisheries Circle for various facilities and assistance extended to her during the entire research program. Encouragements and suggestions extended to the investigator by Mr. K.P. Bhutia, Joint Director, Fisheries Circle, Government of Sikkim, is gratefully acknowledged.

The investigator is extremely grateful to a good many personalities notably Mr. R. K. Narayan, ex-Development Commissioner; Mr. S. Lama, General Secretary, Sikkim Science Society; Mr. K. L. Gyaltsen, Planning Officer, Planning & Development; Mr. P. O. Pazo, Retired Secretary of Forests; Mr. P. S. Moktan, Principal Chief Conservator of Forests; Mr. N. C. Shenga, Chief Conservator of Forests I; Mr. P.K. Basnett, Chief Conservator of Forests II; Mr. J. B. Rai, Conservator of Forests (Land Use & Environment) and late Mr. W.T. Lucksom, Conservator Forests (Fisheries & Wild-Life) for their active co-operation and valuable suggestion.

Thanks are due to Dr. M. M. Goswami, Reader in the Dept. of Zoology, Gauhati University and Dr. Nivedita Sen, Senior Zoological Assistant, Zoological Survey of India, Shillong for their valuable help in the identification of some of the fish and plankton samples.

Besides, the undersigned is grateful to Honourable Minister for Forests - Mr. Sonam Dhupden Lepcha, Mr. M. L. Arrawatia (IFS), Deputy Conservator of Forests and Mr. S. B. S. Bhadauria (IFS), Divisional Forest officer, Government of Sikkim. My special thanks are due to Mr. D. Tenzing Bhutia, Treasurer, Sikkim Science Society; Mr. A. K. Biswas, Scientist, Spices Board; Dr. Yasodha Pradhan, Research Assistant, Department of Agriculture; Mrs. Usha Ganguly Lachungpa, Project Officer and Mr. Suk raj Rai, Range Officer, Department of Forests; Dr. Lily Alley & Dr. Madhap Thapa, Lecturers of Gangtok Degree College; Ms. Geeta Lama, Stenographer, Dept. of Power; Mr. Lalit Rai, G.B.Pant Institute of Himalayan Eco-Development, Gangtok; Mr. Sunil Pradhan, Asstt. Fisheries Development Officer, Mr. C. B. Chettri, Draughtsman, Department of Forests and Mr. Jurmie Singay, Driver of Bhutan Power System.
The author would like to express her gratefulness for their co-operation to the authorities of Sikkim Public Works Department, Geological Survey of India, Meteorological Department of India and Central Water Commission of India.

The investigator extends her indebtedness and profound appreciation to Mr. M. K. Lama, O.S.D., Department of Forests for being supportive throughout her study program.

The author is thankful to late Mr. M. K. Basumatary and his family of Rupnagar, Guwahati and especially his daughter Mrs. Parul Basumatary for providing shelter and care to her at various occasions while her stay in Guwahati.

I am extremely grateful to my cousin Mr. M. B. Golay & his colleague Mr. J. K. Bhutia, Special Intelligence Bureau, Government of India and the Army Personnel at Kerang & Kupup for their indispensable help and co-operation during the hazardous survey of Tista up to Chho Lhamu.

I am indebted to Mr. Sushil Sarmah, Lecturer, Guwahati College and Mr. Kshatriya Shee of Directorate of Mines & Geology, Government of Assam for meticulously and painstakingly drawing the illustrations and diagrams.

My heartfelt thanks are also to all my survey team members especially Mr. L. B. Subba, Retired driver of Fisheries; Mr. Santa Bahadur Rai and his friends from Namli; Mr. Thag Majhi of Jorethang; Mr. Raj Br. Rai, 32 No. Martam; Mr. Wangchu Lepcha, Passingdong, Mr. M. B. Rai of Rorethang and the field staff of fisheries namely Mr. Tenzing Lepcha, Mr. Dawa Sherpa, Mr. D.B. Subba, Mr. Dup Tshering Bhutia, Mr. Do Tshering Lepcha, Mr. Lagyak Bhutia and Mr. Dukar Lachungpa.

I owe much to Mr. Bharat Tamang, National Project Manager, Bhutan Power System Master Plan Project for his invaluable encouragement and all possible help throughout the investigation period enabling the undersigned to bring out the thesis in the present form.

Lastly, I desire to record reverence to my father late M. B. Tamang (Pakhrin), my mother Mrs. Mai Rani Tamang (Gyabak), eldest sister Miss Meera Devi Tamang and brother-in-law Mr. Mani Ram Rai, Gangtok Range Officer, for their encouragement and constant support without which the success of this small but arduous work would not have seen the light of the day.

Guwahati Assam
March 23, 1992

( PUSHPA TAMANG )