TABLE OF CONTENTS

Acknowledgement I -- III
Abbreviation IV
Transliteration V -- VIII
Introduction IX -- XVI

Chapter-I

A brief discussion on the history of early Muslim settlers in India.

Chapter-II

Genealogy and Early life of Mawlana Karamat Ali Jawnpuri:
(A) Ancestors (B) Birth and childhood (c) Education (D) Matrimonial (Connubial)
life and his offsprings (E) Bay'at and acquisition of spiritual knowledge.

Chapter-III

Contemporary socio-Religious Movements of India and their influence on Karamat Ali's Reformatory Movement and Missionary works till his last days:
(A) Socio-Religious Movements among Indian Muslims and its influence on Karamat
Ali's thought (B) I. Faraizi movement ; II. Wahhabi or Tariqah-i-Muhammadiyah movement and III. Taaiyuni movement (C) The propaganda of 'Darul-harb' and Karamat Ali's historic 'Fatwa' against it . (D) His Missionary works at Jawnpur and neighbouring places . (E) Arrival in Calcutta and preparation for extensive missionary work. (F) Preaching and reform-works in different districts of East-Bengal . (G) Missionary and reform works in Assam. (H) Arrival at Rangpur and his death.
Chapter-IV

Literary works of Mawlana Karamat Ali Jawnpuri and his contribution to Arabic language and literature:

(A) His literary works in Arabic, Urdu and Persian with their brief accounts and critical appreciations. (B) Language and style of his Arabic writings. (C) His contribution to Arabic language and literature.

Chapter-V

A compendious appraisal of Karamat Ali's personality, habits, character and career:

(A) As a righteous man, (B) As a true and courageous Muslim, (C) As a socio-religious reformer. (D) As a Sufi Saint. (E) As an Educationist and socio-religious thinker.

Chapter-VI

Conclusion.

Bibliography.

Index.