ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

At the outset, I offer my obeisance to the supreme scholars — Pāṇini and Bhatṭojīdīkṣita, the works of whom blessed me throughout the entire project. Their inspirational works acted as a guiding star and dwelled throughout the endeavour. Dr. Suresh Chandra Bora, my guide, has put his wholeheartedness and fullest efforts to shape this piece of work. I offer my salutation and gratitude to him. Prof. Ram Prasanna Bhattacharya, who left me in the midst of this project for his heavenly abode, was my mentor. It was through his golden ways that I was introduced to Sanskrit, since my childhood days. He acquainted me to the great names of Pāṇini, Patañjali, Bhatṭojīdīkṣita and other Sanskrit grammarians and paved the way for me to study Sanskrit Grammar. I dedicate my whole endeavour to that holy soul. I offer my thanks to my teachers Dr. Dipak Kumar Sarma and Dr. Srutidhara Chakraborty who have helped me with their valuable advises whenever necessary. I cannot forget the contributions of Dr. Sudhendu Mohan Bhadra and Dr. Mukta Biswas and their timely help and cooperation in framing this work. I convey my heartfelt gratitude to them all. My brother, Sakti Prasanna Bhattacharya, an I.T. professional, has a deep inclination towards the subject. His invisible and concerted help has acted as a magic wand in this work. I acknowledge with gratitude the help I received from Ms. Angshumala Sarma, a family friend at Hyderabad and my brother-in-law Sri Arindam Ganguli at California. They have helped me greatly and on umpteen times. I thank my husband, Sri Devojyoti Mukherjee, who has helped me in every step during this project. My love and blessings to my two little daughters, Devangana and Devastuti, for the pains they have taken and for their seclusion from me. They had borne it with me throughout this project and were deprived from my company and care on several instances. My mother, Smti Ashoka
Bhattacharya had silently caressed me throughout. I don't have words to express my thanks to her. Late Sri Paramesh Chandra Mukherjee, my father-in-law was a source of incessant courage and strength. I offer my gratitude to him and pray for his eternal peace.

Last but not the least; I thank Mr. Kalicharan Das and Raja who have taken utmost care in typing out this project.

Date 21.8.2006

Place: Guwahati

( Sudeshna Bhattacharya)