

PRE FACE

In my sixteen years experience in college library administration, I acquainted myself with different aspects and problems of library administration. I have embodied my experience and knowledge of library administration in this thesis.

Dearth of materials is one of the obstacles I had to face. Published literature on this topic is scanty and whatever little literature is published on library science pertains rather to its theoretical aspects.

I collected the data from various sources with the help of a questionnaire.

The present work has been divided into nine chapters including introduction and conclusion.

This study was not financed by anybody. I approached concerned bodies, they showed no interest in the subject.
