PREFACE

As a student of Art and Archaeology I am deeply indebted to my parent institution, the Directorate of Archaeology, Assam. This organisation more particularly, its Branch Office at Jorhat, instituted in 1976 wherein I officiated as a Registering Officer from 1982 to 1991, providing me an indispensable source of information for this study.

It is not merely out of a sense of duty but with deep gratitude that, I acknowledge the constant help and guidance of my supervisor Prof. J.N. Phukan of the University of Gauhati now visiting Professor, Nagaland University, Kohima. His encouragement and inspiration for the perusal of my draft is perhaps the vital reason for which this work attained a stage of completion.

I am grateful to Sri G.N. Bhuyan, the Director of Archaeology Assam, to Dr. R.D. Choudhury, the Director of Museums Assam, and the Secretary, Kamarupa Anusandhana Samiti, and to the Head of the Department of Anthropology, Dibrugarh university, for allowing me to use necessary photographs, sketches, and maps of archaeological site and objects in this study.

I am grateful to Prof. K.K. Dasgupta, the former Vice Chancellor, Kalyani University, Calcutta, Sri Bijan Bihari De, Reader, now at Calcutta University, Sri Talinokcha Curator of North-East Zone Cultural Centre, Dimapur, Sri G.N. Bhuyan, the Director, Directorate of Archaeology, Assam, Dr. I.S. Muntaza, Department of History, Gauhati University and Sri Dilip Kumar Phukan for their valuable suggestions. I acknowledge my gratitude to Dr. Dharmeswar Chutia former Principal, Sanskrit College, Guwahati, who has deciphered several epigraphical records incorporated in this study.
I acknowledge my thanks to Mr. R. Duarah S.C.E.I., Dr. U.C. Kalita, Dr. P.C. Borthakur, Dr. Paran Borua, and Sri Jayanta Jyoti Bora of the Regional Research Laboratory Jorhat, for the test reports to be found in Annexure-I, II, and III. The geological and geomorphological map of the Dihansiri river basin and its surroundings to be found in Fig. 2 is prepared after the Hydrogeomorphological atlas of North-East India, by NRSA, Department of Space, Hyderabad. I acknowledge the technical assistance received in preparation of this map from Sri B.P. Duarah, Geologist and Shri Brajen Sarma, Cartographer of the Assam Remote Sensing Application Centre, Guwahati - 781024.

I am thankful to Sri Lecham Turung, teacher and journalist, Reba Kant Gogoi, Assistant Engineer, Bhabendranath Saikia, Sri Punyeswar Khanikar of Sarupathar; and Sri Debadhar Gogoi, Sri Bidya Borua, Sri Diganta Buragohain, Sri Sonaram Bharali, Md. Chattar Ali (surveyor) of Boropathar, Sri Dulal Bordoloi teacher, and Mrs. Niruprobha Bordoloi of Dhekial Golaghat, and a number of persons, for their help during field investigations at different stages.

I received indispensable help from the staff of K.K. Handique library of the Gauhati University, the Central Library, Guwahati, the Assam State Museum Library, Guwahati, and the office Library of the Directorate of Archaeology Assam, Guwahati.

I am thankful to Sri Gautam Sarma, of the Directorate of Museums, Assam, who has printed a number of photographs out of negatives I provided to Sri Amulya Sarma, Gauhati University for the sketches drawn per my directions and to Ms Najma Begum, of Assam Science Technology & Environment Council, Guwahati, who has done the DTP composing of the entire thesis.
My deep appreciation is due to my wife Dr. Monti Hazarika, Senior Medical and Health Officer, Government of Assam for her encouragement, and for bearing all the constrain and burden of house care, while I was out at field work as well as during table work.

I owe much to my minor son Sriman Ujjwaljyoti Dutta, whom I have deprived of, my affection and constant companionship, while preparing this work. I also acknowledge the encouragement, that I received from my uncle Dr. P.C. Bora, the former Vice-Chancellor of Assam Agricultural University in this stud.

Finally, it is to my parents that this thesis 'Art and Archaeology of the Doiyang-Dhansiri Valley of Assam' is dedicated. It is the warm affection, guidance and care of my father the late Narayan chandra Dutta and my mother Sjta Prabhasini Dutta, that I received, ever since my childhood has helped me much to mould my formative years and encouraged me to do the best I believe and trust.

Dated:
Guwahati the 12th February, 1997
(Hemendranath Dutta)
Exploration Officer
Directorate of Archaeology, Assam
Guwahati - 781 001
Assam