ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

At the very outset, I have the pleasure to acknowledge my profound appreciation of my guide Professor (Dr.) Laksahira Gogoi Chutia, presently Head of the Department of Sanskrit, Gauhati University. Her continuous guidance, constant supervision, valuable suggestions and inspiration and encouragement. Besides, the help and assistance provided whenever calls for. ever remained to be my source of inspiration and encouragement from the beginning of my study till the final preparation of this dissertation. I do convey my deep sense of gratitude to Professor Gogoi-Chutia.

Secondly, my heartfelt thanks are also due to staff members of the K. K. Handique Library, Gauhati University, the Director and staff members of the Historical and Antiquarian Studies, Assam, Guwahati as well as the concerned officials of the Kamrupa Anusandhana Samiti, Guwahati for allowing and helping me in utilising the library resources in this connection. I am personally thankful to Late Dinesh Medhi and Shri. Rajen Medhi of Assam Govt. Press, Guwahati who helped me by making available some rare Pauranic texts related my study.
My sincere thanks are due also to the staff of ‘Academy Printers’, Jalukbari, Guwahati-14, for getting this dissertation typed out under great stress and strain. I offer my sincere thanks to them.

Since taking up the subject for study, my husband Shri. Dhiman Chodhury offered me help of all sorts and encouraged me from the very beginning to the end. Lastly, but not least, my heart goes to my only son, “Rittick”, who had made a lot of sacrifice in the form missing the timely motherly care and help when needed; instead, he gives me inspiration in his own way to making this project a success. I do offer my sincere thanks to both of them. I remain ever beholden in love to them.

(Latika Devi)

(Latika Devi)