ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This thesis is prepared under the Supervision of Dr. N. Chandrasekharan Pillai, Professor, School of Management Studies, Cochin University of Science and Technology. He has spent generously a great deal of his time on this work. This thesis could not have been completed without his constant guidance and encouragement. I place on record my deep sense of respect and gratitude to him.

I am grateful to Dr. K. C. Sankaranarayanan, Head of the Department of Applied Economics, Cochin University of Science and Technology, for valuable suggestions at different stages of my work.

I take this opportunity to acknowledge with thanks for the help rendered by Dr. M. K. Sukumaran Nair, Reader in Applied Economics, and Dr. George Varghese, Reader in School of Management Studies of Cochin University of Science and Technology.

Dr. P. R. Gopinathan Nair, Hon. Fellow, Centre for Development Studies, helped me in stylising the draft in to the present form. In spite of his very busy schedule, Gopi Sir found time to go through the entire thesis. I consider myself most fortunate to have had his help.

My words, I fear, may not convey my feeling of respect and gratitude to my sir, Dr. Radhakrishnan, Director, Centre for Rural Studies, Kariavattom, from whom I learned initial lessons of Econometrics and Research. Moreover, the encouragement and inspiration received at different stages of my research, from him and his wife Dr. Lekha Sreekandan, Associate Professor, College of Agriculture, Vellayani, Thiruvananthapuram, helped me very much to finish the work. I place on record my deep sense of love, respect and gratitude to both of them.

I owe a special debt of gratitude to Dr. V. Nandamohan, Head of the Department of Futures Studies, University of Kerala, for the immense help and encouragement during my study and research.

I am grateful to Dr. Kevin, Reader in Commerce, Institute of Correspondence, University of Kerala, for the help in the analysis of Financial performance.

My friend Dr. Sunny George helped me a lot in Computer analysis. His comments and suggestions at various stages have gone a long way in shaping this study in to its present form. Thanks Sunny.
I am grateful to Dr. M.T. Antony, Lecturer, Government College, Kasaragod, and Dr. Abraham V.L, Lecturer, Vimala College, Trichur, for their timely help.

My sincere thanks are also due to Mr. George Thomas, Mr. Jose B. Paliakara, Monoj G and Abdul Hakkim for their valuable help for completion of computer analysis. Further, I am thankful to Mr. Sasi for his efficient secretarial assistance. My sincere thanks are due to Mr. Santhosh P.K. for his generous help throughout my research.

I have benefited much from the discussion I had with Mr. Nallaperumal Pillai, Deputy Registrar(Rtd.), Department of Industries and Commerce. I express my thanks to him.

I take this opportunity to acknowledge with thanks the help received from Mr. A.M. Joseph, Deputy Director (Stat) Directorate of Fisheries, Vikas Bhavan, Thiruvananthapuram.

I wish to place on record my thanks to I.C.S.S.R. for awarding me a contingency grant for the field work of my research.

I am grateful to the teaching and non teaching fraternity of the Department of Applied Economics and School of Management Studies for their unstinted support and help.

I am very happy to express my thanks to all my friends, Ajith Kumar, Krishna Kumar C, Edison J.C., Lukose C.K., Nagaraja Naidu, Raju Das, Sadasiva Bhat, Somasekharan Nair, Krishnan Namboori, Vijayakumar B, Remanan T.A. and Subramany for their help and cooperation.

Finally, I am very glad to remember the name of my friend Mohanachandran, Cochin University of Science and Technology, from whom I have received the inspiration to come to Cochin University of Science and Technology. I make this opportunity to place on record my thanks to him.
