RECOMMENDATION FOR FURTHER RESEARCHES IN THE FIELD:

Given below is a list of projects which may be undertaken for further researches in the field:

1. Environmental variations and its effect in the academic achievements of children.

2. A survey of academic progress of children belonging to different social strata and hence discovering various factors which are responsible for providing motive for their educational achievements.

3. An investigation into the ways and means that are likely to reduce the detrimental effect of collective handling of large sized classes.

4. An investigation into the ways and means of increasing the efficiency of single teacher schools.

5. A study of the intercorrelation of students' abilities in different school subjects.

6. Development of tool to measure primary mental abilities of children of different age groups.

7. Diagnostic tests to locate weaknesses of children in different areas of various school subjects.

8. Development of an independent tool to measure academic growth of children according to their capacities.

9. The problem of age variation and its effect in the academic progress of children.