Acknowledgement.

I express my heartfelt gratitude to Dr. D.P. Barooah, my supervisor, and presently the Vice Chancellor of the University of Gauhati, without whose valuable guidance this work would not have reached the present form.

In the course of the study, a few women freedom fighters, namely, Smti(s) Pushpalata Das, Amalprava Das, Kiranbala Bora, Induprava Barua, Buddheswari Hazarika, Annaprava Barua, Swarnalata Barua, Ratnabala Phukan, Aikan Bhuyan, Aruna Bhuyan, Late Mohini Rajkumari, Late Rajabala Das and a host of other women were interviewed. I express my sincere thanks and gratitude to these women leaders for kindly bearing with me in the course of long sessions of discussions with them and providing me with invaluable information on the subject of the study. I am greatly indebted to all those women freedom fighters and their relatives who responded to the questionnaire by supplying valuable information without which this work would have been an incomplete one.

I am indebted to Shri Rabin Kakati (ex-M.P.), who supplied me with different source materials for the study and spared a lot of his time to have long discussions with me on different aspects of women's role in the movement. Equally valuable were my similar discussions with Shri(s)
Debeswar Sarma, Sriranjana Prafulla Goswami, Purna Chandra Sarma, Benudhar Kalita, Tarun Sarma, Harendra Nath Barua, Mahendra Hazarika, Muktinath Sarma and other freedom fighters. I express my gratitude to all of them.

In connection with the interviews with the women freedom fighters in different parts of Assam and in the collection of materials, many people helped me in different ways. To name only a few of them were, Shri(s) Ram Kumar Bhattacharyya, Nabin Bora, Bishnu Kakati, Sarat Kumar Dutta, Amar Saikia, Sarat Barkataki, Devabrata Sarma (Dulu of Mongoldoi), Bhaben Barua, Smti(s) Sabita Barua and Padmamala Devi and many others in different places. I take this opportunity to express my thankfulness to all of them.

I express my gratitude to the staff of the Directorate of the Historical and Antiquarian Studies of Assam, the National Library of Calcutta, the State Library of Assam, the District Libraries of Nowgong, Kamrup and Darrang, the libraries of the Gauhati University, the J.B. College and the Gauhati College and the authorities of the H.K. Das Memorial Library of Gauhati, for allowing me to consult their libraries. I am thankful to the Nehru Memorial Museum and Library and the National Archives of India, New Delhi, for giving me access to consult the connected materials in their respective libraries.
I am greatly indebted to the University Grants Commission for awarding me a Teacher Fellowship for this project, with effect from August 1983 for a period of three and half years, with necessary financial assistance. I am also thankful to the authorities of the Gauhati College for allowing me to avail myself of the UGC fellowship granted to me.
