ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It is indeed a great privilege to express my heartfelt regards and gratitude to Dr. P. Mohammed Akhtar, Associate Professor and Head, Department of Statistics, S.K. University, Anantapur, for his valuable guidance, constant encouragement, thoughtful and educative criticism and suggestions during the course of my dissertation. His personal interest and care in the subject matter are responsible for the successful completion of this dissertation work.

My sincere thanks to Prof. K.L.A.P. Sarma, Prof. Y. Krishna Reddy, Professors, Dr. K.Pushpanjali, Associate Professor, Department of Statistics, S.K. University, for their co-operation and inspiration during the course of my research.
I express my deep sense of gratitude to my beloved parents and sincere thanks to my lovable sister V. Varalakshmi and brother S.A. Prasanna for their constant love, encouragement in all parts of my career particularly during the tough times, without which I would not have achieved these milestones.

I thank P.N.S. Bangaru Thalli, K. Bhavani, K. Rajya Lakshmi, C. Rama Mohan, P.S. Sarma, P.T.V. Praveen Kumar, G.N. Sunil Kumar, Research Scholars, Sri M. Thimmappa, Junior Assistant, Department of Statistics, S.K. University, for their encouragement and cooperation during the preparation of this work.

I express my sincere thanks to M. Vasudeva Rao, Lecturer in English, for his help in correcting the language of this dissertation.

My thanks are also due to the Library staff of S.K. University for their valuable support and for allowing me to browse the required material to complete the work.
No vocabulary exists to express my honest feelings to my beloved better half Sri V.Rajesh for his constant encouragement, timely help, and stimulating words to carry out the research work without which the work would not have been completed successfully.

Last but not the least, I would like to express my thanks to the authorities of S.K.University for allowing me to register for M. Phil., degree in the Department of Statistics, and providing all the needful facilities for the completion of the work.
