

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The author feels immense pleasure in expressing her sincere gratitude to Dr. B. C. Kalita, Professor and Head of the Department of Mathematics, Gauhati University, Guwahati, Assam for his constant supervision and guidance with open minded encouragement throughout the course of investigation of this piece of work. His special attention towards the completion of this thesis is acknowledged with best regards.

Thanks are due to the Dean, Cotton College, Guwahati, Assam for providing necessary facilities during the course of this study. The inspiration given by Dr. T. Chaudhury (Ex.Head), T. Sircar (Present Head) and Dr.S.K. Chakrabarty of the Department of Mathematics, Cotton College, is sincerely acknowledged.

The author takes this opportunity to place on record her deep sense of gratitude to the Department of Mathematics, Indian Institute of Science, Bangalore and Physical Research Laboratory, Ahmedabad as the author was benefitted by using their excellent libraries and was helped by discussions and suggestions from illuminating personalities.

The author was allowed to carry out some computational work at the IASST, Khanapara, Guwahati, Assam and the help rendered by Dr. M. K. Kalita, Dr. J.Chutia, Dr. G. C. Das and Mr. A. Barman in this connection is gratefully acknowledged.

The untiring and relentless efforts in computer type setting extended by the author's husband Dr. K. P. Sarma, Reader, Department of Geological Sciences, Gauhati University, is heartily acknowledged. Commemorable co-operation and painstaking patience shown by the author's two sons Abhijit and Indrajit during the entire course of work is something beyond description. The make-up of the thesis in the present form has been possible with valuable help rendered by Mr. Debojyoti Chakraborty which is highly praised and appreciated by the author.

Acknowledgement is due to the University Grants Commission for giving financial assistance through a "Minor Research Project" in this academic pursuit.

Guwahati, the 20th December, 1997

*Nirupama Devi
(Ms. Nirupama Devi)*