ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It is my proud opportunity to express my deepest sense of gratitude to Professor Dr. Mukunda Madhava Sharma, M.A., Ph.D., D.Litt., Kavyatirtha, for his able and expert guidance and constant encouragements during the course of this work. It has truly been both an honour and pleasure to have worked under his supervision.

I am thankful to the Director of Public Instruction, Government of Assam and to the University Grants Commission for the award of an Assam Government Scholarship during the initial stage of this work and a U.G.C. Research Fellowship during the later stage respectively. My sincere thanks are due to the Librarian, National Library, Calcutta; the Librarian, Asiatic Society Library, Calcutta; the Dy. Librarian, MSS, Saraswati Bhavan Library, Varanasi; the Director, Oriental Research Institute, Mysore, the Curator, Government Oriental Manuscript Library, Madras and the Curator, Bhandarkar Oriental Research Institute, Poona, for their help during the collection of materials for this work.

I take the privilege to extend my hearty thanks to Shri Basanta Kr. Sharma, Shri Hareswar Das, Shri Mahanta Kr. Kalita, Shri Rajen Sarma, Shri Kandarpa Kr. Deka, Mrs. Bina Goswami and my elder sister Mrs. Anjali Devi Barthakur for their various help and encouragements during the course of this work.

My sincere thanks are due also to Shri Basistha Barman for agreeing to undertake the painstaking job of typing this thesis.

I owe immensely to my loving husband Dr. Sarbeswar Bujarbarua without whose constant encouragements and help from time to time this work would have remained unfinished. It is indeed a great sacrifice on his part to leave me behind only for the sake of the present research project as he proceeded to live a lonely and unattended life at the Ruhr University in the West Germany.

Finally, but most importantly I am indebted to my late son 'Pinoomani' who had always been an inspiring source of encouragement and happiness, specially during the excruciating moments of frustration and despair. His entire life had been associated with this thesis and his untimely death shortly before its completion had marred the joy and happiness of completing this arduous task. I hope he forgives his mother for being unable to devote all her time and energy to him because of this work.

Deepali Devi Bujarbarua