ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I take this opportunity to convey my sincere thanks to my guide Dr. (Miss) Niru Hazarika Professor of Political Science, Gauhati University who helped me in completing this thesis.

I am highly indebted to His Excellency Lt Gen (Retd) S K Sinha, PVSM, the Governor of Assam for giving me his personal audience for this thesis. I am also grateful to all the Senior Officers of the Security Forces for sparing their valuable time for giving their views. I also take this opportunity to convey my thanks to Prof. Dr M. Taher of the Department of Geography, Gauhati University for helping me in compiling the various statistics for the thesis. Col Rajeshwar Singh, Commanding Officer of 8 MARATHA LI was of immense help during the field work at Bongaigaon and Kokrajhar area. This had helped me a lot in having a better perspective of the Bodo problem.

Above all, the driving force behind me for doing this thesis was my wife and daughters. They had sacrificed a lot for me in completing this work. I also want to convey my gratitude to Lance Naik Th Premananda Singh of 240 Transit Camp who worked untiringly on the computer for completing this thesis.
