ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I express my deep gratitude to my guide Dr. A.K. Bora, Reader in Geography, Gauhati University whose sincere guidance, help and suggestions helped me to complete my research work.

I am grateful to Gauhati University authorities and also to the Department of Geography for providing me library and laboratory facilities. I am very much grateful to Prof. R. Barman, Head of the Department of Geography and honourable teachers of the department from whom I received all possible help and suggestions during my research work. I am also grateful to Prof. D.C. Goswami, Head, Department of Environmental Science, Gauhati University, for his encouragement and valuable suggestions.

I offer my thanks to ARSAC, Guwahati, the Brahmaputra Board, Flood Control Department of Assam and other government offices from which I collected maps, hydrological and socio-economic data and other related information needed for the study.

I am grateful to my husband Dr. Shambhu Sinha, my brothers-in-law, Sri Nipren Choudhury and Sri H.B. Nag, my brother Mr. Alok Roy and my sister Ms. Ruma Roy. Without their help and co-operation it was difficult to complete this research work. My parents helped me a lot in completing the research. My mother-in-law also inspired me a lot for which she deserves my heartfelt thanks.

It would be an injustice if I do not acknowledge the help and co-operation received from Geography Department of Darrang College, Tezpur. My teachers Dr. P.K. Sharma, Head of the Department, Dr. S. Barthakur and my colleagues Sri D.R. Sedai, Sri S.K. Kar, Sri M. Barman and Sri H.J. Nath and also Ms. Kalpana Kalita of the Department of Sanskrit of Darrang College deserve my special thanks for constantly encouraging me in my research work.

I am grateful to Martinet Computer Centre, Jalukbari for computer work. Enamul Haque also deserves special thanks for cartographic works.

At last I offer my thanks to all those individuals and institutions who have directly and indirectly helped me in this piece of work.
