ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This work was undertaken with the objective of carrying out an indepth study of the Rabha language as spoken by that community.

I am indebted to my predecessors who had initiated work in this direction and to the scholars who have done valuable research on the life and culture of the Rabha Community including their speech. All such works have encouraged me to take up a project on this indigenous tribe of the North-East with a rich cultural heritage.

At the outset I must express my deep sense of gratitude and sincere appreciation of Dr. S.N. Goswami, Rabindra Nath Tagore Professor and former Head of the Department of Modern Indian Languages, Gauhati University, under whose supervision and guidance, I completed my research work, inspite of his heavy work load and busy schedule, he has guided me at every step of my works. It would not have been possible for me to complete this work without the valuable guidance of Professor Goswami. Here I take this opportunity to pay my respect and sincerely gratitude for his kind interest and help.

I also offer my heartiest thanks to my husband Sri Sadananda Nath, Senior Lecturer in Economics, Abhayapuri College and my little one ‘NUPANGA’ for their encouragement in every step of my research to complete the thesis. I am also grateful to all the members of my family for their help.
I am also thankful to all informants and the other village people, who helped me in various ways in collecting data for this studies, for all such help and co-operation, I express my gratitude to all of them.

I would like to mention the Libraries and the concerned staff of various Libraries, the Bongaigaon College library, the K.K. Handique library of G.U., N.E.H.U. library. The State library, History and Antiquarian library, Kamrup Anusandhan library, Asom Sahitya Sabha library of Guwahati and the National library, Kolkatta etc. for their help and co-operation. I am thankful to all of them.

I must express my heartiest thanks to my friend ‘Pranita’ and her family members for their help during the days of my field-work.

My senior and affectionate colleague, Maitreyee Das, senior lecturer in English, Bongaigaon College has also encouraged me a lot by way of helping me with the intricacies of the language of my entire thesis. I offer my sincere gratitude.

I also thanks ‘Girish Deka’, my colleague and brother ‘Hillol’ for their help. My teacher of P.G. Classes in G.U. Dr. Upen Rabha Hakasam and a progressive Rabha social worker Sri Listi Rabha also helped me by providing some books and materials in my research. I am grateful to both. I also offer my heartiest thanks to Ranidhar Thakuria for help in the field work.
Finally, I feel, I should extend my countless thanks to Sri Nagen Ch. Das, a progressive youth of Guwahati who by taking much trouble, typed out and Sri Debajit Das for D.T.P. of this thesis within a very short period of time.

Jaba Thakuria

'JABA THAKURIA'