ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I would like to acknowledge my debt to Dr. Buddha Prasad Chetiya, which is far larger than that which a research scholar normally owes to his Supervisor. He provided my basic orientation to the theory and has given unfailing encouragement and guidance on all matters, from the most general issues of the theory to the practical points of analysis and presentation. He enthused and inspired me by his magnanimous patience through a critical reading of the manuscript in its preliminary form and later on of the typescript in its final form. But for his help, guidance and generosity the present form of the work would not have been possible. What I owe to him will be plain from almost every page of the thesis. Errors and misinterpretations in any part of the work are, of course, my own.

I very sincerely thank Mrs. B.P. Chetiya, who willingly and ungrudgingly put up with all the inconveniences caused by me while my Supervisor was busy with my thesis. I am sincerely sorry that she was deprived of so many promised outings and holidays. I am in no way less indebted to her.

I offer my sincere thanks to my very intimate friend and well-wisher Dr. R.K. Mahanta who has been a never-failing source of inspiration to me during my frequent bouts of depression.
I am indebted to Dr. A. H. M. Hoare of the Birmingham University for very promptly sending me an off-print of one of his papers at my request which was not readily available here at Gauhati then.

I owe a special debt of gratitude to Mr. Surjya Kanta Das, who unhesitatingly and smilingly typed many versions of the work at home in the evenings and at the week-end.
