Chapter I

Introduction

Section I. Geographical background - The geography of Manipur - Natural features - A geological account of Manipur - Climate - Soil - Hill routes - Earlier references to Manipur and its civilisation - Controversy regarding the identity of Manipura with the Manipur of the Epics - The different names by which it was known to different people

Extent of Manipur in the 19th century and after

Section II. Ethnic background - (A) The people - Population - The Meitheis - Origin of the Meitheis - Physionomy - The development of the ideal of 'Meithei' - The Lois - (scheduled caste) - The Visnupriyas - The Muslims - The Naga and Kuki tribes - The Tangkhuls - The Maos - The Marams - The Kabuis - The Marings - The branches of Kuki tribes - The Mayangs

(B) Meithei Language and literature

Nature of Manipuri language - Three different theories regarding the origin - Comparative remark

Early literature - Eighth Century Copper-plates - Extensive literature - Chetharol Kumbah - Numit Kappa - Poireiton Khunthokpa - Khongjom Nubi Mangaron - Nongban Pombi Luwaoba - Chalanron - Loiyumba Silen
Section III. A short sketch of the Political History till the end of the 17th Century

Introduction - Pākhāmbā and his ten immediate successors (33 A.D. - 663) - Naōthikkhong to Nīmthoukhôm bà (663-1467) - Kyāmbā to Mūmyāmbā (1467-1577) - Khāgembā (1597-1652) - Khunjāobā and Pākhôm bà (1652-1698)

Section IV. Religious History till the end of the 17th Century

Classification of ancient deities - Forces of Nature - The Sky - The Sun - The Moon - Sōrāren (Indra) - Wāṁberen - The fire - Kaubru - Sanāmahi - Pākhāmbā - Nom pok Nīmthou - Thāmjing - Mārjing - Leimarel (Female deity) - Ancestor worship - The cult of departed ancestors (Kaša lāl) - The cult of trees associated with Umāmālāi (forest gods) - Oracles - Divinatory process - Hindu gods and goddesses in the eighth Century - The inscriptio nal evidence - Vaiṣṇavism in the 15th Century - Vaiṣṇavism in the 18th Century - Worship of animals and evil spirits - The cult of Himcāvî (vampire) - Socio-religious rites - Festivals - Nong Lāobā (Rain compelling ceremony) - Ceirāobā (Manipuri New Year's day) - Lāi- harmonāobā (merry-making of gods) ... ...

Chapter II

Political History in the 18th and 19th Centuries

Charāirongbā and Garibniwāz- the relations with Burma and hill chiefs - defeat of the hill tribes - Garibniwāz's fights with the Burmese (1718-1739) - murder of Garibniwāz by his son - Gaurosām - invasion of Manipur by Alaung-paya (1757) - Jayasimha- Anglo-Manipuri alliance (1762) - repeated invasions of the Burmese - fight of Jayasimha- relations with the king of Assam (1765-1792) - The political picture of Manipur after Jayasimha - murder of Labamyachandra - death of Maduchandra - Chourajit - Mārjit's rebellion and flight to Ava - reign of Mārjit- invasion of Manipur by the Burmese - seven years' devastation of Manipur(1819-1826) - Anglo-Burmese war (1824-1826) - Manipur levy, a contingent raised by Gambhir Singh- the expulsion of the Burmese from Manipur - Gambhir Singh recognised king-opening of the Naga hills - loss of Kabaw Valley - death-succession of infant Chandrakirti - establishment of regency - conspiracy against regent Nar Singh - flight of Chandrakirti and his mother to Cachar - Nar Singh - arrival of Kukis - Devendra Singh - Chandrakirti again - Sepoy mutiny 1857 - Lushai expedition - Naga hills operation - Darbar held at Cachar - Anglo-Burmese war - death - Manipur in 1890-91 - Surachandra-rebellions of the princes - palace revolt of 1890 - Surachandra's appeal to the Government of India - the war with the Englishmen killed - the last war 1891 - the Englishmen enter Manipur and the Maharaja flies away - arrest, trial and execution of Tikendrajit and General Thangal - New arrangement - selection of a new Raja - Churachand Maharaja - investiture ceremony. 91-124

Chapter III

Social and Economic Conditions prior to and during the 18th and 19th centuries

Social condition - introduction - Pāṇnā (division)- professional servants of the king - the nature of family life - slavery - sib - clan - divisions and sub-divisions of the Meithei society under Hindu influence - marriage and other related ceremonies - divorce - widow remarriage - position of women in the society - food and drink - the dress of the people - ornaments - hair dressing - games and sports - polo (sagolkāngjei) - lamchel - wrestling - boat race (Hiyang) - kāng - some other sports - social medicine - village organisation

Economic condition - vocations of the people - agriculture and land settlement - spinning and weaving - salt industry - tanning works - salt industry - dyes and dyeing - harmony and peace - the institution of Singlup - trade relations with the outside world - exports and imports - Important routes - medium of exchange - money lending and mortgage - housing condition of the people - conclusion 125-169

Chapter IV

Vaisnavism under Charāirongba and Garibniwāz (1698-1748)

Introductory: Division of the Vaisnava history of Manipur into two (1) the reign of Charāirōngba and (2) the reign of Garibniwāz - sources - the formal initiation of Charāirōngba into Vaisnavism - building of temples - patronage of Bangadesa (old) kirtana - school of Vaisnavism

Garibniwaz's initiation into pre-Ramanandi Vaisnavism - positive steps to popularise Valşpavism - introduction of Hindu ideas and rites - influence of Assamese school of Vaisnavism - Rise of Ramanandi Vaisnavism - Sántidaś Adhikāri - His argument for Ramanandi - King Garibniwaz's initiation into Ramanandi school of Vaisnavism - works for it - suppressive measures taken against the non-Ramanandi system of worship - destruction of Umālais (forest gods) - burning of purānas - imposition of fines - effect of the religious reform of King Garibniwaz - efflorescence of literature - development of image worship - reaction against King Garibniwaz's religious policy - Khongnangthābā - mysterious happenings as known from some medieval texts - religious syncretism - cultural implication of Ramanandi Vaisnavism

Chapter V

Introduction and Developments of Neo-Vaisnavism in Manipur (1771 - 1891)

Traces of Gaudiya Vaisnavism in Manipur - a life sketch of Caitanya of Bengal - Narottama Thākura Mahāsaya (16th century) - Gangā Narayana Chakrāvarti - King Jayasimha - installation of the images of Sri GovindaJa and others - visit of Vaisnava missionaries from Bengal - introduction of Narottama parīkṣa sect of Vaisnavism in Manipur by the king - activities in Manipur - construction of temples and installation of some more images - popularising the Gītāgovinda and other Scriptures - pilgrimage to Vṛndāvana - revival of Gaudiya Vaisnavism in Nabadvip - death of Jayasimha - Sīja Lāiroibi - Her devotional works in Nabadvip - The position of the cults of Sanānāi and Pākhamba - stories connected with these deities

Neo-Vaisnavism under the successors of Jayasimha-Chourajit Maharāja - activities in Manipur - activities outside Manipur - Maharāja Gambhir Singh - Devotion to Jagannātha - the visit of Vaisnava missionaries - Maharāja Narsing - widespread popularity of bhalana and nagara-kirtana - reinstallment of the images of Rādhā and Kṛsna - temple renovation - Maharāja Chandrakirti Singh - installation of four images - remaking of the image of Sri GovindaJa - dedication of bells - religious fairs - search for the Vaiśnava scriptures - the coming of...
Chapter VI

Development of Literature and Fine Arts under Vaishnava Influence

The educational background of the Vaishnava movement - Vaishnava literature - religious works - historical works - philosophical works - astrological works - works on medicine

Music - introduction - types of songs - old songs - new Vaishnava songs - padavali songs of Bengal - rāgas and rāginis or melodies - tāla or time cycle - Manipuri musical instruments

Chapter VII

Rituals and observances round the 18th and 19th Centuries

Worship - relic worship - daily prayer routine in the temple of Śrī Govindaji - services observed in the villages - rites - de-passage - conferment of mālā - holy order - death and obsequial rites - festivals -
(a) Jāmāstami - (b) Dola-yātrā - (c) Ratha yātrā -
(d) Jhula yātrā - (e) Rāsa yātra - (f) Govardhana pūjā
(g) Ningola chakabā - (h) Gosta - (i) Heikru hidongva -
(j) Vasanta pañcami - (k) Jayantis - fasting - the daily ritual of a Vaishnava in Manipur
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Page Range</th>
<th>Section</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>335-382</td>
<td>Chapter VIII</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>383-417</td>
<td>Chapter IX</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>418-425</td>
<td>Conclusion</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1-6</td>
<td>Glossary of Manipuri Terms</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7-17</td>
<td>Bibliography</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Chapter VIII

Different Religious Cults

Saivism - features, data - various forms of Siva - rites and festivals - Sivaratri - Vardhini - Ceiraoa

Saktism - introduction - the Sakti pitha concept - Hiyangthang - festivals - Durga puja - Kali puja - religious syncretism

Tantricism - preponderance of tantricism in earlier rites and available literature - yantra - mudras and drug - practice of tantricism in historical times

Other minor cults - planet cult - Manasam cult - tantric Vaisnavism - Buddhism - Islam - the religion of hill tribes

Chapter IX

Conclusion