GLOSSARY

Adhi - A half
Adhiar - A man, who spends half his time in one village, half in another, cultivating lands in both, is said to be an Adhiar.
Benami - Anonymous
Benamdars - Anonymous
Bhang - Hemp
Bigha - A measure of land varying in extent in different parts of India. The standard bigha of the revenue surveys of the north-west provinces is equal to 3025 square yards, or \( \frac{5}{8} \)ths of an acre. In Bengal and Assam, the bigha contains only 1600 square yards or little less than \( \frac{1}{3} \) an acre.
Ganja - Hashish
Gosain - A spiritual guide
Gram Ekai - Village unit
Gram Sabha - A village Assembly
Hat - A periodical market
Kabuliwala - A man of Kabul
Katha - A measure of land, varying in different places, but usually a square of four cubits, or six feet long.
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Term</th>
<th>Definition</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Loohha</td>
<td>A land measure in Assam equal to $11\frac{1}{2}$ square feet.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Matha</td>
<td>A building or set of buildings where Hindu religious mendicants reside under a superior or Mahant, generally having rent-free lands in endowment, although supported in part by alms.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mahanta</td>
<td>A pious man</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mauzadar</td>
<td>A fiscal officer in charge of a division of a district in Assam.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sarkari</td>
<td>Belonging to Government</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Satra</td>
<td>The place or building where alms and food is distributed to mendicants and Brahmins respectively.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Suphari</td>
<td>A dry nut</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wakf</td>
<td>A bequest for religious or charitable purposes, an endowment, an appropriation of property by will or by gift to the service of God in such a way that it may be beneficial to men, the donor or testator having power of designating the persons to be so benefited.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>