PREFACE

Human Rights may be regarded as those fundamental rights to which every man or woman living in any part of the world is entitled by virtue of having been borne as human being. But there was no concept of the right of a person to be called as human rights in the state of nature for the reason that human beings could not satisfy their basic needs and interests without the co-operation of others. Implementation of Human Rights is a subject of great importance at any time and in any society. Different steps have been taken by the government, conventions have been held and legislations passed for the implementation of Human Rights. Of course, realization of Human Rights cannot be achieved solely through legislation and administrative arrangements. The government or non-government organizations have to make an attempt to make the people aware of their basic rights. Hence the research work has been undertaken.

I express my profound gratitude to my guide Dr. Aftab Hussain, Ex Principal, University Law College, Gauhati University for the constant inspiration and perceptive guidance for which this study have seen the light of the day. I am grateful to Dr. N. Sanajaoba, Professor, Head and Dean of Law, University of Gauhati, Dr. Bhaskar
Chakravarty, Principal, University Law College, Gauhati University, Dr. Subhram Rajkhowa, Reader, Law Department, Gauhati University and Dr. Haren Kalita, Member, Human Rights Commission for suggesting the present problem of research and helping me in designing and executing the study.

I am indebted to the Librarians of B.R.M. Government Law College and University Law College, Gauhati University, K.K. Handique Library, Gauhati University and Library of Department of Law, Gauhati University for their kind co-operation and assistance.

I would be failing myself if I do not express my sincere thanks to all my colleagues specially Debabrata Mukherjee, M. Rahman, Dr. Stuti Deka Rupa Borgohain, Dr. J.P. Bora for helping me with different suggestions and encouragement in my work.

I owe personal indebtedness to my colleague and friend Bhuban Barua, my brother Sainen Medhi and Ashok Choudhury of U.B.I. and Ashok Kr. Bayan of DDK, Guwahati for their kind help in different ways.

Last but not the least, I express my sincere thanks to my husband Mr. Pratap Bordoloi, my children Gargee, Punyag and Maitrayee who from the very beginning of my work helping me in all steps of the thesis and encouraging me to complete the work without whose sacrifice and co-operation this work would not have been completed in time.

Ruma Bordoloi