(1) All the names of the books, both traditional and modern, which have been mentioned in the present work are underlined.

(2) All Sanskrit words and the words of later Indian literature occurring in the main body of the dissertation have been written with initial capital letters for their easy identification.