ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The author finds no word to express her sense of indebtedness to Dr. S. Saikia, M.A.Ph.D.(Gau), A.I.E.(London) Professor and Head of the Department of Education, Gauhati University, for his constant encouragement, timely advice and helpful criticism of the manuscript. The author also offers heartfelt gratitude to the Gauhati University, Guwahati-14 for giving her permission and necessary facilities to undertake the work in the University. The author will remain ever grateful to the authority of the Assam Agricultural University, Jorhat for giving her opportunities to carry out the research with necessary leave etc.

The author has extended her gratefulness to the Directorate of Social Welfare, Govt. of Assam, State Social Welfare Advisory Board, The Directorate of Elementary Education, Govt. of Assam and The Directorate of Panchayat and Community Development, Govt. of Assam for their help and co-operation received at the time of visit for the collection of required information. She could not but be grateful to the interviewee for their kind co-operation received during the course of investigation.

It will not be out of place to mention about Late S.R. Baruah, the father of the scholar for his inspiration to carry out the research which makes her to turn the dream into reality and which will remain ever as milestone in her academic life.
Sincere thanks are also due to each and every member of the family for their neverfailing co-operation at every stage of the work.

Lastly, the author acknowledges the encouragement and help received from the staff of the College of Home Science, Assam Agricultural University, Jorhat-13.

Date: 30-11-87

J. Baruah

JYOTSNA BARUAH