The present dissertation is a modest attempt at analysing various constraints on the development of education among the Bodo-Kachari tribe in the northern bank of the river Brahmaputra, and also finding out some remedial measures for development of the tribe. I have had the opportunity to discuss the subject with a good number of distinguished personalities who took interest in my work and spared themselves so generously from their multifarious and pressing engagements so as to respond to my queries and requests. Their suggestions and advice, indeed, helped me to a great deal in approaching the problems and issues of the subject.

I owe a deep debt of gratitude to my erstwhile revered teacher, Prof. B.C. Kar, Retd. University Professor and Head, Departments of Education & B.T., and presently Professor, U.G.C.
Scheme, Gauhati University, whose able guidance and constant encouragement at every stage in the preparation of this work have enabled me to surmount numerous difficulties and obstacles. Without Prof. Kar's active suggestion, supervision, sympathetic criticism and constant encouragement, it would not have been possible for me to undertake and complete this work.

I must acknowledge my profound gratitude to Dr. B.C. Lahkar, Principal, Gauhati Commerce College, Guwahati, who, in spite of his manifold pre-occupations, liberally extended his helping hand and valuable suggestions whenever sought for.

It is the people of the Bodo-Kachari tribe to whom I owe the greatest debt; I tender my grateful thanks to all of them for the help and cooperation they extended so ungrudgingly to me during the course of my investigation in different districts of the State. Needless to emphasize that this work would never have been completed without their cooperation and help. I am particularly grateful to Sarvashri Mangalchandi Brahman, Rakhal Brahman, Tilak Kachari, Golap Ch. Basumatari, Rupen Daimari and Prof. Geeta Basumatari for their kind and unhesitating response to my needs.

I am grateful to Shri T.K. Baruah, Principal, Pragjyotish College, Guwahati, Prof. Biren Adhikari, Pragjyotish College, Dr. Bhuban Mohan Das, Head of the Department of Anthropology, Gauhati University, Dr. P.C. Bhattacharyya, Principal, B. Baruah College, Prof. Thaneswar Boro of B. Baruah College, Guwahati, Shri N. Deuri Borah, Deputy Secretary, Assam Legislative Assembly, Dispur, Shri L. Sarmah, Assam Economic & Statistical Service, Dispur, Shri Mani Ram Deka, Kokrajhar, Shri Jogesh Bhuyan, Deputy Director, Census Operation, Shri Suryya Borah, Investigator, Census Operation, Guwahati, Shri Dharanidhar Basumatari, Ex-M.P., Shri Jewel Baruah, Guwahati, Shri Bhuban Mohan Mahanta and Shri Biren Sarmah, Guwahati, who took keen interest in this study and gave me the opportunity to discuss it with them besides providing all facilities for preparation of this work.
I am also thankful to the U.G.C. authorities for granting me financial assistance for the purpose of this study without which it would have been rather very difficult for me to complete the work.

Finally, it is difficult for me to express in words my gratefulness to my husband Shri Lekhoke Kakoty, who has not only encouraged me, but also contributed in many tangible and intangible ways by his spontaneous support, companionship and advice throughout.
