ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I owe my deep sense of gratitude to the people of Garo Hills of Meghalaya in general and to those whose advice and encouragement inspired me to take up this work in particular. For me, the collection of materials needed for my study was really a difficult job, but it is only with the sincere and active cooperation extended to me by the different cross-section of the people that I could complete the work.

Firstly, I take the opportunity to express my profound gratitude to Dr. D.K. Majumdar, Department of Anthropology, Gauhati University, for his able and inspiring guidance at every stage of my work and for giving many valuable suggestions for improvement. It is needless to say that without his guidance and regular supervision the work would not have been possible.

I am grateful to all the members of the Christian Community in Garo Hills for giving me many useful informations about the development of Christian Church in all parts of the Garo habitat at different periods of time.
I gratefully acknowledge and express my deep respect to those members of the older generation in different interior villages who have been instrumental in giving all the available sources of information on the subject.

I also sincerely express my heartfelt gratitude to the authorities of the Garo Hills District Council for the privilege given to me to have a clear idea about the workings of the District Council.

I am grateful to Prof. Lindrid D. Shira of Tura Government College for his kind and generous help in various ways.

I am indebted to Salnang R. Marak (Lasker), Jengnang R. Marak (a traditional Garo priest), Rawan Ch. Marak and many other followers of the traditional Garo Religion of Damjonggri village in Western Garo Hills.

I am also thankful to Bajing Ch. Marak and other elderly villagers of Bolchugri village in Central Garo Hills.

My thanks are due to sengjin M. Sangma, and the traditional Garo priest of Damal Akonggri village in Central Garo Hills for their kind and generous help and assistance.
I will be failing in my duty if I do not record the names of Lalsing A. Marak, Sunachon D. Marak, Hongsin M. Marak, Paulsing D. Sangma and many other who with their age old experience about the traditional customs, practices and religious rites have greatly contributed towards improvement of my present study.

I gratefully extend my sincere thanks and appreciation to Romon M. Sangma (Aning nokma) and other local residents of Suchilgri village in Central Garo Hills.

I humbly acknowledge my indebtedness to Chajang R. Sangma and other local elders of Rongrussim village in South East Garo Hills for rendering me whole hearted cooperation and support during my field work in Atong area.

I am also grateful to all Songsarek residents of Rombagri village in Central Garo Hills for their kind and cheerful cooperation for making my work easier in their area.

I am also thankful to my young friends Leanroyd Ch. Momin, Hebelson M. Sangma and Miss Finuja P. Marak who also helped me in various ways.
I also sincerely express my gratefulness and appreciation to Dijen Kakoti, Dip Saikia and Bimal Monanta for helping me in preparing the Bibliography.

I am obliged to Shri Ramesh Ch. Sarman of Gauhati University for all secretarial assistance he rendered in getting the manuscript typed.

Finally, I express my gratefulness to my wife Mrs. Elbia P. Marak who had been a constant source of inspiration and moral courage to me throughout my work.
