CONTENTS

PREFACE

CHAPTER - I

Modern Short Story: Its terminology and its scope and meaning.

1. A survey of the opinions of learned scholars on modernism. 3
2. Short story and its theoretical analysis. 7
3. Inter Relation Between Literature and Society. 30

CHAPTER - II

Bengali and Hindi Short Story: Background (1860 - 1920).

1. Political Background. 48
2. Economic Background. 59
3. Social and religious background. 65
4.1 Literary Background - Bengali. 75
4.2 Literary Background - Hindi. 82
5.1 The Tradition of Short Story In the Pre-Rabindranath Age. 91
5.2 The Tradition of Short Story before Premchand. 95

CHAPTER - III

Rabindranath and Premchand: Social Environment and the similarities-dissimilarities of their Thoughts.

1. Permanent appeal to the short stories of Rabindranath and Premchand. 107
2. Reflections and judgements of Rabindranath and Premchand's social thoughts and ideology. 116
2.1 Rabindranath and Premchand's opinions on National Movement and Independence. 122
2.2 Rabindranath and Premchand: Reflection on Education and Literature. 133
2.3 Rabindranath and Premchand: Their angle of vision in regard to religion. 137
3. Relevance of the short stories of Rabindranath and Premchand. 143
CHAPTER - IV

Women in the stories of Tagore and Premchand:
A formidable stay of Social Awareness.

1. The concept of ideal Indian women and her present status. 163
2. Reflections of Rabindranath and Premchand on women. 167
3. The short stories of Rabindranath and Premchand:
   Manifestation of different aspects of women. 176
   3.1 The women in the short stories of Rabindranath and Premchand—A powerful expression in social and national thoughts. 179
   3.2 The female characters of the short stories of Rabindranath and Premchand: The driving force for family relations. 188
   3.3 Women in the short stories of Rabindranath and Premchand:
      Live idols of thoughts, duties and sacrifices. 198
   3.4 Woman in the stories of Rabindranath and Premchand:
      A study in self awareness and rights. 216

CHAPTER - V

Short Stories of Rabindranath and Premchand:
An expression of Social awareness.

1. The Concept of Marxian Theory. 240
2. Existence of different classes in the short stories of Rabindranath Tagore and Premchand. 249
   2.1 The Upper Class: Its tyrannical and oppressive motives:
      Covetousness & lust for luxury at the cost of the poor. 255
   2.2 The Middle Class: Their progressive social thinking—Keen sense of morality and ethics and their revolutionary ideals. 267
      2.2.1 Political Consciousness. 273
      2.2.2 Protest against the abuses of rule and repression done by the British to the Indian people. 285
      2.2.3 Support towards progressive and moral educational system. 292
   2.3 The lower class: Neglected and victims of inhuman tortures and exploitations. 296
   3. The picture of the social problems in the short stories of Rabindranath and Premchand. 302
3.1 Portraits of Feudalistic abuses and tortures. 302
3.2 Superstition and blind faith. 306
3.3 Dowry System. 308
3.4 Untouchability. 310

CHAPTER - VI

Short stories of Tagore and Premchand: Achievements.

1. Short stories of Rabindranath and Premchand, successful manifestation of their social awareness. 320
2. The short stories of Rabindranath and Premchand: Art and Craft. 328
3. Artistic Principles. 332
3.1 The Narrative or The Subject Matter. 339
3.1.1 Characters. 349
3.1.2 Dialogue. 357
3.1.3 The Background. 362
3.1.4 Language. 366
4. The influence of Rabindranath upon the short story writers of the following generations. 379
5. The Influence of Premchand upon the writers of the following generations. 386
6. Summing up. 391

BIBLIOGRAPHY 401