ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I sincerely express my deep sense of gratitude to my teacher and guide Professor M.M. Das, former Dean, Faculty of Science, Gauhati University for his guidance, help and sustained inspiration that enable me to complete this thesis. His untiring involvement in this work has really made me indebted to him.

My sincere gratitude also goes to Professor A.K. Bhagabati, Head of the Department of Geography, Gauhati University for providing me with necessary facilities in carrying out this research project in the department.

I would like to express my gratitude to Professor M. Taher, Professor H.N. Sharma and Professor R. Barman for their valuable suggestions and encouragement. Author’s deep sense of gratitude is also due to Dr. A.K. Bora, Dr. B.K. Kar, Dr. A. Saikia and Dr. Mrs. L. Dutta for their help and valuable suggestions.

I shall be failing in my duty if I do not extend my gratitude to Dr. Gopal Phukan, Principal, Dudhnoi College, for his help in completing this work. Thanks are also due to my teacher B. Goswami for his help. I extend my gratitude to my friend B.Bhuyan and Dr. S. Deka for their constant inspiration. Thanks are also due to my colleagues T.C. Talukdar, N.B. Sheikh, B. Boro, H.C. Kalita and K. Rajbongshi, Lecturer, Dudhnoi College for their encouragement.

My sincere thanks are due to my friend Kalicharan Das and his son Raja for typing this thesis and Pankaj Kr. Bora for drawing the maps and diagrams carefully. I cannot forget the help that I received from Sri Babul Lahkar and Mrs. Prativa Deka Lahkar for extending all possible helps.
I express my deep sense of gratitude to Mrs. Anupama Das, wife of my guide for her valuable suggestions and hospitality in the course of my entire research work.

Finally, I thank my wife Srimati Devajani Das for her sacrifice and encouragement throughout this Ph.D. Project.
