ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

At the very outset, I express my gratitude to the authority of the Gauhati University for enabling me to prosecute the study for this thesis.

It is my proud privilege and honour that Dr. (Mrs.) Lakshamira Das, an eminent educationist and Professor and Head of the Department of Education, Gauhati University, inspite of her heavy preoccupation, condescended to be my guide. But for her constant encouragement and able guidance, this thesis would not have seen the light of day. I take this opportunity to offer her my deepest regards and gratitude, while being fully conscious that no amount of my gratitude and thanks can redeem the debt that I owe her.

I am thankful to the Health and Family Welfare Department, Govt. of Assam, for permitting me to enrol myself for this Doctorate study, while I am in Govt. service and for collecting required data from the department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology, Gauhati Medical College, Guwahati.

I would also like to record my debt to Dr. Rama Kanta Das, M.B.B.S., D.G.O., M.O., Dr. (Miss) Bharati Barooah, F.C.O.G., and Dr. (Mrs) Alaka Goswami, M.D., all Professors in the Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology, Gauhati Medical College, Guwahati for their valuable advice and assistance from time to time in course of my study.

I am beholden to Dr. Badrinath Saxena, FAMS, Senior Deputy Director General, Dr. (Mrs) Prema Ramchandran, FAMS, Deputy Director General, Indian Council of Medical Research,
New Delhi and Dr. Jhon Gill, M.D. of Population Council of Thailand, who helped me with valuable suggestions and literatures and of course, encouragement.

I am grateful to all the staff of the Regional Centre for Clinical Research in Human Reproduction, Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology, Gauhati Medical College, Guwahati for their help. I am also thankful to Mr. Niresh Chakraborty and Mr. Abani Sarma for their kind help.

My thanks from the core of my heart also go to the Principal and my colleagues in the Regional College of Nursing, Guwahati for their constant encouragement and to Shri Bharat Ch. Saikia for carrying out the tedious typing work of this thesis with tender care.

I shall always remain indebted to them who helped me a lot in all aspects but did not like to mention their name here.

Last but not the least, I must record my indebtedness to my brother-in-law Shri Rameswar Chakraborty and my young children- Kamal Kishore and Gitanjali, who quietly and unobtrusively relieving me from many a domestic chores and through their understanding, consideration and advice, never allowed me to feel over-burdened and my spirit to sag during the long period of the research work.

It is my great pleasure to dedicate this humble study to my beloved parents.
