ACKNOWLEDGMENT

I have a sense of fulfillment and a joy of satisfaction by completing my Ph.D. thesis. Yet, I admit that it is the help and encouragements from different levels over the years that has made the completion of my research possible.

I express my deep sense of gratitude to my supervisor Dr. Surenora Singh for his countless valuable guidance and keen interest throughout the course of my research work. I would also like to express my intelligent and logical approaches as well as his constant encouragements without which my research works would not have been carried out.

I am deeply indebted to Professor A.C. Mohapatra, who have selected the present research topic and initially was my Co-Supervisor. I am also deeply indebted to Professor K.L. Rai, Head, Department of Geography, NEHU, Shillong for encouraging and providing me with necessary facilities in the Department. I would also like to thank the Dean, School of Human and Environmental Sciences, NEHU, Shillong, all the teaching and non-teaching staff and my co-research scholars who have extended their helping hands in every possible way.

My special thanks go to the Higher and Technical Education Directorate, Government of Meghalaya, for granting me the very much needed fellowship for my research. Also I am very grateful to Mrs. R. Lalima, Principal, Idrakul College,
Aizawi, for his endless encouragement and understanding without which my thesis would not be completed. I am also indebted to the Governing Body, Manipur University for granting me study leave and needed cooperation in my research work. I also thank the Government and Bank Officials who have provided me with the needful Statistical Information.

I would also like to acknowledge the special debt which I owe to my friend Dr. Kirtikanta Pachan and his valuable help and his useful cartographic works. I need to thank Dr. N.D. Scel, who helped me in processing data and providing the required results in the computer and his hard labour for getting the manuscript typed and editing with patience.

My thanks go also to Mamia & Manu of Aizawi and L. Sunil Singh, research scholar, geography Department, Shillong for their kind helps in the cartographic works. I would also like to acknowledge special debt which I owe to my brother-in-law, C.H. Vanhmingthanga, for his warm companionship throughout the length and breadth of Mizoram for field survey. I am also grateful to my wife Mafali for her endless cooperation and prayers for carrying out my research work successfully.

\[\text{Signature}\] 16/95

ROALI HUMA SULLEY