ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

No serious literary work is possible without help from others in various forms. In the preparation of my thesis also I had to take help from so many people. I feel it is my pleasant duty to acknowledge their help with gratitude, though it may not be possible to refer to all the people who helped me in preparation of the thesis.

The name that comes first is that of Dr. U.N. Das, professor in the department of Mathematics, Gauhati University; as supervisor of my research work, he took all the trouble to guide me in preparing my work. My thesis, in its present form, bears the mark of his constant and untiring supervision from its beginning to its final shape. My heartiest gratitude goes to him.

It is a pleasure to record my deep indebtedness to my teacher Dr. A.C. Srivastava, Emeritus Scientist, CSIR, in the department of Mathematics and Astronomy, Lucknow University, but for whose help and inspiration this work would not have been completed. I take this opportunity to express my gratitude to Dr. B. R. Sharma, currently Reader of Mathematics at Dibrugarh University, for the help he rendered me during the preparation of this work. I am also thankful to Dr. Sarat Kakoti, Reader, Department of Statistics of Dibrugarh University for his encouragement at every stages of my work and to Sri Rudra Kanta Deka, Lecturer, Department of Mathematics, Gauhati University, for the help he has offered me in preparation of this work.

I am profoundly grateful to Sri Gautam Roy for his taking infinite care to type out the whole thesis absolutely neat and singularly free from error.

I must not fail to mention the encouragement, moral boasting, patience and involvement of my wife, Ruma in the progress of the present work.

Gauhati University

(BHUPEN BARMAN)

the February , 1997