ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

While making this study I have used the books of the Gauhati University Library, the Library of Tribal Research Institute, Beltola, Guwahati and the Library of Tangla College. Moreover, I have travelled much and talked to many Boro leaders regarding their problems in the study area. Books on the Bodos of Assam are very rare. Therefore, I have faced many difficulties in searching out the data on the subject. I had to depend on my field work.

First of all, I must thank the authority of Gauhati University for permitting me to undertake the study about the Boros.

Secondly, I might be failing if I do not mention the names of some of my friends. I am also thankful to my wife Mrs. Mina Kumari Rajbanshi as she has suffered a lot of inconvenience and troubles during the period of my study. The care with which she supported me and her constant encouragement gave me stamina to expedite the study work.

My thanks are also due to Prof. Biren Dutta, Head Dept. of Folklore, Gauhati University because it was he who ignited the idea that was working within me. His memory will ever remain fresh in my mind.
I am also thankful to Prof. Rajendra Kalita, Prof. Umesh Deka, and Shri Amarendra Deka, the Librarian of Tangla College for their constant encouragement to continue with my study.

I must also thank the president of the Integrated Tribal Development Project (ITDP) of Udalguri and its employees as they allowed me to note down my necessary materials from the Project Report.

Also, I cannot forget my favourite student Shri Deepak Boro, Binod Daimari and Kuren Kachari of Tangla College as they helped me in collecting data for my thesis.

Last but not least is my guide Dr. (Mrs.) Anuradha Datta, Reader in Political Science, Gauhati University who left no stone unturned to help me in completing the thesis. I shall remain ever grateful to her because of her sincere help to me.
