ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

In conducting the investigation on "The Economic Development of Cachar District During 1951-74" I have incurred many a personal obligation which I take great pleasure in enumerating below. First of all, I must mention that the Librarians of the National Library, Calcutta, Guwahati University Library, Central Library and Assembly Library of Guwahati, District Library and Deputy Commissioner's Library of Silchar and the Central Library of Shillong rendered me invaluable help by allowing me to work in their Libraries and use the source materials. The District Officers of various Government Departments at Silchar rendered me the like service by allowing me to use their official publications and consult the office records; amongst them the District Statistical Officer; Programme Evaluation Officer, Planning Commission; District Development Officer, United Bank of India; and Project Officer, Rural Industries Project deserve special mention. For the particulars of the Tea Industry I must express my gratitude to the Field Officer, Sub-Regional Tea Board Office, Silchar, the Secretary, Indian Tea Association (Surma Valley Branch), Silchar, and the Secretary, Cha Sramik Union, Silchar. Amongst the host of friends and colleagues, who helped me in diverse ways, I am specially thankful to Shri H.K. Das, M.Com., and Shri S. Chakraborty, M.A., of Cachar College, Silchar, and Shri B. Chaudhury, M.A., of G.C. College, Silchar.

No tribute can be too great to Principal A.K. Dutta Chaudhury,
M.A. (Triple), Ramkrishnanagar College, whose erudite discussion and learned counsel helped me much to marshal the materials at the various stages of investigation.

I am grateful to my respected guide Dr. A.K. Sarma, M.Com., Ph.D., Dean, Faculty of Commerce, Gauhati University, who has very kindly assisted me in my investigation by his valuable guidance and suggestion; and it deserves mention that but for his inspiration, help and sympathy, it would have been utterly impossible on my part to carry on the investigation and complete it in time.

Dated,
Silchar, Cachar, Assam
July 4, 1980

S. K. Bhattacharjee,
Lecturer, Department of Commerce,
Cachar College, Silchar.