ABBREVIATIONS

References to Hume's works are cited in parentheses immediately after quotations, the abbreviations used being explained in the table below. References to other works appear as notes at the end of the work.

T  A Treatise of Human Nature, ed. L.A. Selby-Bigge (Second Edition. Oxford: Clarendon Press, 1978). (Page references for passages which are quoted are given in the form (T 101) or, in the case of those taken from Hume's Introduction where pagination is by lower case roman numerals (T xix). In the case of topics which mentioned, references are made to Book, Part and Section by a note of the form (T I iii 14), which means Treatise, Book I, Part iii, Section 14).

E  An Enquiry Concerning Human Understanding and E_2  An Enquiry Concerning the Principles of Morals

from

E  Enquiries ...... , ed. L.A. Selby-Bigge (Third Edition. Oxford: Clarendon Press, 1978). ('E', without subscript, is used only for reference to the 'Editor's Introduction'). (Both of Hume's Enquiries are divided into Sections, some of which are divided into Parts. In addition to the usual page references for quotations, (E_1 101), for example, topics may be located by notes of the form (E_1 VII ii), which means first Enquiry, Section VII, Part ii).
