ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The author wishes to express her deep gratitude to her teacher and guide Dr. Probhat Kr. Sen, Professor, Head of the Department of Geography, University of Burdwan without whose extremely valuable advise and encouragement this work would never have been completed. The author is also indebted to Dr. M.R. Chowdhuri, Professor, Department of Geography, Dr. A. Biswas, Lecturer, Department of Geography, Dr. N. Prasad, Reader, Department of Geography and Ms. M. Basu, Lecturer, Department of Geography, University of Burdwan for their helpful discussions and advise.

The author is grateful to the authorities of the University Grants Commission to provide her with the fellowship to carry on the research work. She expresses her thanks to Ms. Gita Dutta, S.T.A., Mr. D.K. Das, S.T.A. and Ms. Srirupa Dass, Asst. Librarian of the University of Burdwan.

The author expresses her obligations to Mr. J.K. Dasgupta, Chief Engineer, Irrigation and Waterways Directorate, West Bengal, Mr. G.K. Dutta of National Atlas and Thematic Mapping Organisation, Director of Soil and Landuse Survey, I.C.A.R., authorities of Central Ground Water Board and Geological Survey of India and others who rendered their helps in various ways. She also expresses thanks to her colleagues, friends and others who helped her in field work and various stages of preparation of this work.

Banya Chakrabori
9.5.85