ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

In course of preparation of this thesis, I received encouragement, guidance and help from a number of individuals and institutions in a variety of ways. I would like to remember all of them with sincere gratitude. At the very outset, I convey my sincere thanks, deepest regard and gratitude to Dr. (Mrs.) Parbin. R. Akhtar, Lecturer and Research guide, Department of Education, Cotton College, Guwahati for her constant encouragement, able guidance and constructive criticism in the preparation of this thesis.

I owe a deep debt of gratitude to my husband Dr. Shamim Sahidullah for his constant association, inspiration and suggestion throughout the project, without whose help in many ways it would have been impossible to complete this work. Special word of thanks to my father Dr. M. Tohsin whose invaluable guidance, pragmatic suggestions and constant encouragement are most gratefully acknowledge. I must also remember my mother Dr. (Mrs) S. Tohsin, mother-in-law and my beloved daughter Anjum for their help and co-operation.

I am also grateful to the students, teachers and Principals of the various technical institutions of Assam for their kind co-operation extended to me in collecting data for my Ph.D. work.

At last, I do express my appreciation to my relatives, friends and to all those who have helped me during the execution of my Ph.D. work.
