The author expresses his profound gratitude to his teacher and supervisor Dr. Nageshwar Prasad, M.A., D.Litt., Reader, Department of Geography, Burdwan University, Burdwan (West Bengal) for his scholarly schooling, kind words and brotherly affections like a traditional Indian 'Guru' and continual commitment of time throughout the course of this work from checking, examining and compilation of information to the summing up of this thesis in spite of his demanding academic and administrative schedule. Without his able guidance, it would not have been possible for the author to prepare the thesis in the present form.

The author is greatly indebted to Professor M.R. Chaudhuri, Professor P.K. Sen, Professor N.K. De, Dr. Arbinda Biswas, Sm. Manjusree Bose, Dr. C. Mitra, Sri R. Basu, Dr. K. Bhattacharya and other teachers of the Department of Geography, Burdwan University, Burdwan for their inspiration and valuable suggestions from time to time. The author is also grateful to all these teachers as well as the research scholars and students of the Department for their valuable suggestions and positive criticisms during the Pre-Ph.D. seminars organised by the scholars on 21st December 1987 and 15th January 1988. The author expresses his deep sense of gratitude specially to Dr. A. Biswas for his valuable suggestions in the bivariate analysis of morphometric variables.

The author owes deep gratitude to his teacher, Dr. K.N. Das, Professor & Head, Department of Geography, Bhagalpur University,
Acknowledgement

Professor R.P. Sinha, Head, P.G. Department of Geography, T.N.B. College, Bhagalpur and Dr. A. Kumar, Professor, Department of Geography, Bhagalpur University for their affection and constant inspiration to complete this work in time.

The author would like to place on record his deep sense of gratitude to his teachers Professor H.K.Chand, Professor S.R.Roy, Dr. R.D.Singh, Dr. U.P.Singh, Dr. R.N.Pandey and many others of Bhagalpur University for their encouragement which the author received from them regularly.

The author is thankful to the Headmaster, Sri Amarnath Dixit, Sri Sant High School Ghogha (Bhagalpur). Thanks are due also to Sri Krityanand Goswami, Sri L.N.Upadhyay, Sri U.P.Yadav, Sri A.B.Dubey, Sri J.P.Jha, Sri S.Yadav and other colleagues and staffs of his school for their co-operation and encouragement.

Special thanks are due to his friends Sri D.P.Yadav, M.A. (L.S.W.) and Sri D.N.Chaudhury, M.Sc. (Zoology), Bhagalpur University who took great pains and showed tremendous courage in companying for the field work.

Hearty thanks are also due to Sri Madan Mohan Giri, Lecturer, T. D. B. College, Raniganj (W.B.), Sri Shukdeo Sahu, Lecturer, Chas College, Dhanbad (Bihar) and Sri Kamla Prasad, Reader, B.S.K. Post-Graduate College, Maithom Dam, Dhanbad (Bihar) for their encouragement and kind co-operation.
Indebtedness is due to his father-in-law Sri Biranchi Yadav, A.T., High School Tarar, Bhagalpur (Bihar) for his constant encouragement during the course of the work.

Sincere thanks are due to Sri P. Mukherjee, Sm. Gita Guha, Sri Dibakar Raut and other members of official staff of the Department of Geography, Burdwan University for their encouragement and kind co-operation.

The author expresses his sincere thanks to Smt. Sushama Prasad Arya and other members of her family for their encouragement for the completion of this work.

The author wishes to express his deep sense of gratitude to Smt. Hemalata Kumari for her patience during the work and for the great responsibility she took in looking after the children in his absence from house.

Sri Ananta Kumar Palit, Burdwan University deserves sincere thanks for preparing the type-script meticulously.

Hearty thanks are also due to M/s Xerox Copying Centre, Burdwan.

Keshav Prasad Yadav
23/2/88

DEPARTMENT OF GEOGRAPHY,
BURDAN - 713104.

(KESHAV PRASAD YADAV)