ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I take this opportunity to express my deep sense of gratitude to my supervisors, Dr. T.C. Deka, Professor (Rtd.), Department of Zoology and Dr. B. Choudhury, Professor, Department of Anthropology, Gauhati University for their invaluable inspirational guidance, critical suggestions and constant encouragement in preparation of this thesis. My grateful thanks are due to Dr. B. Choudhury for his constant untiring cooperation, without which it would not have been possible on my part to complete this research work.

I record my profound gratitude to Late Professor J.S. Murty, the then Head, Department of Genetics, Osmania University, Hyderabad, who brought me to this field of research work. My sincere gratitude is due to Professor S.N.N. Pandit, Head (Rtd.), Department of Statistics, Osmania University, Dr. T. Padma, Professor and Head, and Dr. S. Vishnupriya, Professor, Department of Genetics, Osmania University for their kind cooperation and continued encouragement and suggestions in the initial stage of my research work. I am greatly indebted to Madam Pandit, who affectionately encouraged me to complete my research work.

My cordial thanks are due to Dr. A. Dutta, Professor and Head and all other teachers of the Department of Zoology, Gauhati University for their encouragement, suggestions and for taking interest in successful completion of this piece of work.
I am also grateful to Dr. B.K. Medhi and all the teachers of the Department of Anthropology for their help and encouragement during my research work.

I express my sincere thanks to all the villagers for their help, hospitality and cooperation during the fieldwork.

I am thankful to Mr. Ranjit Paul, M.C.A., North Lakhimpur College; Mr. Deepak Das, Population Research Centre, Gauhati University and Dr. Probodh Borah, Associate Professor, Department of Microbiology, College of Veterinary Science, Assam Agricultural University, Guwahati for taking the pain of analyzing the data.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to all those who extended help and valuable suggestions from time to time in carrying out this work.

I shall be failing in my duties if I do not express my sincere thanks to my husband Dr. M. Rajbongshi, my children Dr. Pallavee, Dr. Amit, Panchal and Uma, and all the family members for their constant help, encouragement and blessings.
