ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I have the honour to express my deepest sense of gratitude to my revered guru Professor Mukunda Madhava Sharma, M.A., Ph.D., D.Litt. (Cal), Kavyatirtha for guiding me with best affection, constant encouragement, valuable information, useful advice and sufficient care all throughout the execution of the present research work.

I am extremely grateful to the scholars whose works I have studied and utilised for preparing the present dissertation.

I am greatly indebted to Dr. D. Chutia, Lecturer, Govt. Assam Sanskrit College for helping me with great patience and labour in the historical part of the work. I am also indebted to Dr. M. Taher, Professor and Head of the department of Geography, Gauhati University, for kindly verifying the correctness of the geographical information contained in the first chapter of the present thesis.

I am thankful to the members of the Department of Historical and Antiquarian Studies, Govt. of Assam for their co-operation and help at the time of consulting some original copper plate charters preserved in the office. I am grateful to Shri G.N. Bhuyan the then Director of Archaeology and State Museum, Assam and presently Director of Archaeology, Govt. of Assam for giving me the opportunity of examining the two copper plate charters of the Ahom period preserved in the Museum. I am indebted to Dr. R. D. Choudhury, Director of State Museum, Assam for kindly supplying me the texts of the 'Two Copper Plate Grants from Mingalaevar' along with the descriptive note. I am also thankful to the authority of the Kāmarūpa Anusandhana Samiti (Assam Research Society) for helping me with the permission of reading books in its library.

I am fortunate enough to have come to a close contact with Pandit Manoranjan Sastri through the media of the present research work. I must express deep obligations to Dr. B.N. Sastri for helping me with some suggestions while making an assessment of the inscriptions of medieval Assam. My indebtedness is indeed too great to Dr. J.N. Phukan, Reader, Department of History, Gauhati University for kindly supplying me some photographs of the medieval inscriptions of Assam and for offering me some important suggestions relating to the history of the Āhom rule. I also remember with great reverence late Dr. Manda Talukdar for some useful information and suggestions received from him at the initial stage of the present research work.

I sincerely put on record my sense of gratitude to the members of the National Library, Calcutta for their immense help during my two months stay in the library in the year 1981. I am thankful to Sri S.K. Chakravarti, Education Officer, Calcutta Museum, for offering me the suggestion to become a member of the Epigraphical Society of India so that I could collect more information concerning the present line of research.

I have no words to express my deep sense of gratitude to the members of the Deccan College Library, Poona for giving me the best of facilities for consulting the library. I am really fortunate to have come in contact with Dr. M.D. Sankalia, Emeritus Professor, Postgraduate and Research Institute, Deccan College during my stay in Pune in the month of March, 1984.

I am highly thankful to Professor S.H. Ritti, Secretary and Executive Editor, Epigraphical Society of India and Dr. T.V. Patha, Professor of Ancient Indian History and Culture, Marathwada University, Aurangabad for their encouragement in my present research.

I am grateful to the members of the Delhi University Library for their co-operation and help. I take this opportunity to express a deep sense of gratitude to Dr. R.V. Joshi, Professor and Head of the Department of Sanskrit, Delhi University for his encouragement in my present study and suggestions for further research work.

I am extremely happy to put on record the feelings of deepest sense of gratitude to my teachers Professor D. Goswami, former Head of the Department of Sanskrit, Darrang College, Tezpur and Sri Jagannath Saatri, former Sanskrit teacher of North Jamuguri High School for the immense inspiration that I received from them for studying Sanskrit.
