Chapter 1

INTRODUCTION .......................................................................................... 01 - 31
1.1  The Greed Factor and Excessive Consumption ------------------- 01
1.2  Is High Consumption Culture Sustainable?------------------------ 03
1.3  High Consumption Lifestyles: Impact on Individuals ------------ 06
1.4  Does Material Possessions Bring Happiness? --------------------- 08
1.5  A Culture of High Consumption Spreading Across
    The Globe: Indian Scenario------------------------------------------ 10
1.6  High Consumption Behaviors – The Causal Factors --------------- 12
1.7  Materialism and Self-esteem – Exploring the Linkage ----------- 14
1.8  Rationale of This Study and Research Gap - --------------------- 16
1.9  Identification of Social Pressure Factors -------------------------- 19
1.10 Research Problem and Study Objectives -------------------------- 21
    1.10.1 The Key Research Problems of the Study ------------------ 22
    1.10.2 The Major Objectives of this Study ------------------------ 22
1.11 Brief Outline of the Methodology Adopted----------------------- 24
    1.11.1 Sampling Design ------------------------------------------ 24
    1.11.2 Instruments Used ------------------------------------------ 25
    1.11.3 Pilot Study ----------------------------------------------- 26
    1.11.4 Data Collection Process ----------------------------------- 26
    1.11.5 Flow Chart of Research Process ----------------------------- 27
1.12 Structure of This Report------------------------------------------ 29

Part I

LITERATURE REVIEW

Chapter 2

MATERIALISM AND SELF – ESTEEM......................................................... 33 - 52

Section I

MATERIALISM

2.1  Concept of Materialism ------------------------------------------- 34
2.2  Instrumental Materialism versus Terminal Materialism
    (The Dark Side of materialism) -------------------------------------- 36
2.3  What Causes Materialism?------------------------------------------ 39
Chapter 3
SOCIALIZATION FACTORS AS CONTRIBUTOR TO MATERIALISM........53 - 80

Section I
PEER PRESSURE

3.2 Peer and Reference Group Influence ------------------------------- 56
3.3 Peer Pressure and Consumer Susceptibility---------------------------- 57
3.4 How Peer and Aspiration Group Influence Consumption
Habits? -------------------------------------------------------------- 59
3.5 Summary of literature Reviewed on Peer Pressure ------------------ 60

Section II
SOCIAL COMPARISON

3.6 The Concept of Social Comparison----------------------------------- 62
3.7 Social Comparison as a Driver of Materialism----------------------- 63
3.8 Psychology of Social Comparison------------------------------------ 64
3.9 Summary of Literature Reviewed on Social Comparison -------------- 66

Section III
CONSUMER ATTITUDE TO DEBT AND CONSUMER FINANCE

3.10 Attitude to Debt as a Contributor to Materialism ------------------ 68
3.11 Role of Credit Mechanisms in Triggering High
Consumption and Financial Stress---------------------------------------- 70
3.12 Summary of literature Reviewed on the Attitude to
Debt --------------------------------------------------------------- 72
Section IV

STATUS CONSUMPTION

3.13 Understanding Status Consumption .............................. 74
3.14 Status Consumption and Materialism .......................... 76
3.15 Summary of the Literature Reviewed on Status Consumption ................................................... 78

Part II

PRIMARY RESEARCH

Chapter 4

THEORETICAL FRAMEWORK OF THIS STUDY .............................. 81 - 97

Section I

SOCIAL PRESSURE

4.1 Understanding Social Pressure ...................................... 81
4.2 Social Pressure to Consume ......................................... 83

Section II

4.3 Gist of Observations and Rationale for this Study .......... 85
4.4 Findings of the Exploratory Study ................................. 88
4.5 Social Pressure Pathway of Materialism ......................... 92

Section III

4.6 Development of Hypotheses ........................................ 95

Chapter 5

METHODOLOGY ............................................................................. 99 - 122

5.1 Sampling Design .......................................................... 99
5.2 Sampling Process ........................................................ 101
5.3 Why Survey Method is used? ...................................... 103
5.4 The Profile of Respondents ........................................... 104
5.5 Instruments .................................................................. 106
5.5.1 Measurement of Materialism – Richins and Dawson’s Scale ---- 107
5.5.2 Measurement of Self-Esteem – Rosenberg’s Self Esteem Scale ---- 110
5.6 Developing a Scale for Measuring the Social Pressure to Consume

5.6.1 Measurement of the Attitude towards Television Programs or Commercials

5.6.2 Measurement of Interpersonal and Peer Group Influence

5.6.3 Measurement of Vulnerability to Social Comparison

5.6.4 Measurement of the Attitude to Debt

5.6.5 Scale for Measuring Social Pressure to Consume

5.7 Pilot Study

5.8 Data Analysis

Chapter 6

RESULTS .................................................................123 - 183

6.1 Preliminary Analysis and Data Screening for Self-Esteem, Materialism and Social Pressure

6.2 Preliminary Analysis and Data Screening for Social Pressure Factors: Attitude to Television, Peer Pressure, Social Comparison and Attitude to Debt

6.3 Reliability and Validity of Scales Used

6.4 Hypothesis Testing

6.5 Testing of the Social Pressure – Materialism Model

6.5.1 Canonical Discriminant Functions – Predicting Materialism

6.5.2 Confirmatory Factor Analysis for Materialism - Social Pressure Two Factor Model

6.6 Other Key Observations from This Study

Chapter 7

SUMMARY OF FINDINGS, DISCUSSIONS AND CONCLUSION ..................................185 - 200

7.1 Findings on the Association between Materialism and Self-Esteem

7.2 Findings on Social Pressure as a Contributor of Materialism

7.3 Establishing the Social Pressure Pathway of Materialism

7.4 Discussions on Materialism and Status Consumption

7.5 Discussions on Other Key Observations

7.6 Major Contributions of this Study

7.7 Limitations of this Study

7.8 Recommendations for Future Research

7.9 Conclusion
