Acknowledgements

It is my extreme pleasure to acknowledge my gratefulness to All India Council of Technical Education, (AICTE), New Delhi for the financial support accorded to me without which research work of this nature would have been impossible to undertake. I also express my sincere thanks and gratefulness to Dr. U.C.Kalita, Dr. M.M.Das and Dr. M.Ahmed for shouldering the responsibility as my guides for pursuing this research work for Ph.D. degree.

The author is grateful to the National Testing Laboratory and Assam State Pollution Control Board for their facilities provided to conduct some of the tests. The author recalls with gratefulness the services provided by my student friend Mr. Neelkamal Goswami for the time-specific photographing and their digital processing. It would not be justice if I do not express my gratefulness to my laboratory assistant, Mr Jim Chaw for his services without whom such a labour-intensive research work would not have been possible.

Finally, I am grateful to my wife Nilakshi and my daughter Mana for their cheerful understanding of my preoccupation with the research work.
