PREFACE

Today we are living in a complex society. Social problems of our time are quite different from what these were yesterday. Whole society is under heavy strains. It is said that a knowledge of our unknowing or little known tribal brethren is a stepping stone for Indian integration which has become very much relevant in our present study.

Help of my present study is received from a host of well wishers, friends and a good number of informants belonging to distinct parts of Garo Hills of Meghalaya. It is my pleasant duty to express my deep sense of gratitude to all of them.

It must be admitted that the completion of the work was possible due to help and guidance of many persons and several departments, agencies and also to the Koch village people who helped me with their suggestions. Relevant information has been gathered from Advocate Sibendra Narayan Koch, Tura, Sri Upendra Hari Koch (Retd. Teacher), Sri Nagen Chandra Koch (President, Meghalaya Koch Association), Sri Nirmal Koch, Sri Aboni Koch (Retd. Head Master), Sri Bhadreshwar Koch (Secretary of Koch Sanmilan, Meghalaya), and many other Koch villagers. I am really grateful to them, for helping me with books, journals and manuscripts written meticulously and in the process spending valuable time. I would like to express my indebtedness to Mr. Obaidul Islam who assisted me in collecting data and other relevant materials and helped me in this respect.

I owe all my sincere debts to Dr. Anil Kr. Boro, Research Guide, Deptt. of Folklore, Guwahati University for his cheerful patience and inspiring guidance from the very beginning without which it would not have been possible for me to complete the works. For his whole hearted sympathy, sacrificing spirit, his bountiful generosity and love, I gratefully acknowledge my gratitude and indebtedness to him.

I offer my deep sense of gratitude to Dr. Kishore Bhattacharya, Head of the Deptt. of Folklore, Guwahati University for his unstinted suggestions and help.

I am also particularly grateful to Sri Upendra Hari Koch, Advocate Sibendra Narayan Koch and Sri Nagen Chandra Koch who are working with paying look on their own caste.
They have helped me supplying printed materials, photos, interpreting the Koch songs, social festivals and ceremonies, etc.

I also acknowledge my thanks to the following well wishers and colleagues: Mrs. Marshia Khandakar (Retd. Lecturer, Mankachar College), Mr. Upendra Kumar Ghose (Retd. Lecturer, Mankachar College), Dr. Sailendra Narayan Thakuria (i/c Principal, Mankachar College), Sri. Kamalendu Chakravarty (Retd. Teacher), Ms. Pratima Neogi (Lecturer, Golakganj College), Dr. Nabin Chandra Sutar (Lecturer, Chhay Gaon College) for their kind help and evincing a deep understanding of my study.

I extend my compliment to Mr. Muktazur Rahman Kazi (Lecturer, Mankachar College) for DTP type setting this thesis and enabling me to submit it in time.

I owe a special debt of love and gratitude to my husband Mr. Sushanta Bhowmik who has taken the constant and immense help in my work throughout the period from the very beginning. It is because of his timely advice and help, I could bring the study in present shape.
I am thankful to my sole daughter Miss Susingdha Bhowmik and my son Master Sankhadeep Bhowmik who always encourage me during the course of my study. Their patient understanding and moral encouragement always inspire me immensely.
