ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

In completing my research work I got help from many persons to whom I must convey my gratitude. It is impossible for me to decide to whom I should mention first and to whom at last. I offer my deep and sincere gratitude to my revered teacher and guide Dr. Begum Bilkis Banu, Reader, Department of Philosophy, Gauhati University, whose kind guidance, valuable suggestions and constant help and encouragement enabled me to complete the present work.

I must take the opportunity to convey my thanks to Prof. Monisa Borua, Head, Department of Philosophy, Gauhati University, Prof. Sibanath Sarmah and Prof. Girish Sarmah, former heads of the Department of Philosophy, Gauhati University, for they helped me by useful suggestions during the period of research. I am thankful to my revered teachers Prof. D. K. Chacravarty, Prof. N. Sarmah, and Dr. S. P. Goswamy for their kind suggestions. Here I must thank Mr. S. C. Goswami, Principal, Lakhimpur Kendriya Mahavidyalaya, North Lakhimpur, for his kind inspiration and constant help. I am much indebted to the discussions with my college colleagues Sri S. R. Chetry and Sri K. K. Gogoi.
I am grateful to the Director and Library staff of the Study Centre of Indian Council of Philosophical Research (I.C.P.R.), Butler Palace, Lucknow and National Library, Belveder, Kolkata. I am also grateful to the librarians and staff of Dibrugarh University Library, Dibrugarh; K. K. Handique Library, Gauhati University; I. I. T. Library, Guwahati and B. R. A. Bihar University Library, Muzaffarpur.

I express my sincere gratitude to my wife and family members who have created such an atmosphere at home that I could complete the research work within the time frame. At last, I am thankful to all of those who took immense care in typing/binding the manuscript of the thesis.

(Sri Bimal Chandra Gogoi)
