Acknowledgement

It is my privilege to thank all those whose labour of love has made it possible to pursue and complete the present research work.

I am eternally indebted to my esteemed supervisor Prof. M. C. Kalita for his sincere guidance and kind encouragement throughout my course of work. His constant support and motivation has been immensely valuable. His blessings and inspiration would definitely be my strength for life.

My sincere thanks are due to Prof. P.J. Handique, Head of the Department of Biotechnology, and all the honourable faculty members of the Department of Biotechnology, Gauhati University, Guwahati for their words of wisdom and selfless help.

I am also grateful to Dr. B.C. Kalita, Scientist, State Biocontrol Laboratory, Govt. of Assam, for imparting useful information on my subject of study and encouraging and helping me in my laboratory and field work.

Acknowledgement is due to the Soil Division, Directorate of Agriculture, Ulubari, Regional Meteorological Centre, Borjhar, National Seeds Corporation, Pusa, and IMTECH, Chandigarh for extending their kind help and furnishing useful data necessitated during the course of the work. The libraries of Assam Agriculture University, Jorhat and Gauhati University, Guwahati are also sincerely acknowledged for helping me to acquire indepth knowledge of my subject of study.

My heartiest thanks are also due to my fellow research scholars in the laboratory, Mr. B.M. Buzarbaruah, Mr. Jayanta Talukdar and Mr. Ritupomo Borah who have always been kind enough to bear with me throughout my course of work. The research scholars and students of the Department shall always be fondly remembered for their kindness and help.

The office and laboratory staff of the Department has always put forward their helping hand during need. Their help and support shall always be fondly remembered. I sincerely acknowledge the help and support of Sri. Vasu, who made it possible for me to carry out the field experiments required in the present study and Mr. Mrinal Sarma, who was helpful as laboratory staff.

Finally, I take this opportunity to thank my mother whose love cannot be repaid. My sincere thanks are due to my husband for his unconditional love and unstinted support. The love and encouragement of my sister have sustained me throughout the period of study. And, last but not the least, heartfelt thanks to my daughter whose innocence has reconciled my faith in the Almighty.
