Preface

This research project work related to the library science. In this study I have to identify the various aspects of the automations in the selected universities from the Gujarat state, again it's a relevant to the empirical study. For the purpose of this specific research I have utilized various resources and analytical tools from the area of library science.

The Researcher procedure will produce some kind of implication from the analysis of the data and information and out of that the subject will lead for library and information science and moreover. It will also facilitate for the research knowledge and the horizon of science. The subject or topic of the present thesis is “Automation in University Libraries of Gujarat State: An Empirical Study”. Special and exceptional concept will prove fruitful to this Thesis. And in that the research work is not done for the stated subject and this research work will really prove appreciable. Hope that this will be a guiding star for those Information Specialists who are interested in the similar phenomenon.

Narendra Kumar Sharma