ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It was my long felt desire to do serious research work in the area of training. I have been working as a trainer for the last twelve years at IIFHW, the apex training institution for the department of Health and Family Welfare, Govt. of Andhra Pradesh. This has given me an opportunity to gain insights into the training processes in the department, which motivated me to select training as the area of research. My colleagues at the institute also encouraged me to pursue my doctoral research in this area.

I am highly indebted to Dr. P. Premchand Babu, Associate Professor, S.K. University, Anantapur, my Ph.D supervisor, who was largely responsible for successful completion of this study, for his valuable guidance and support. But for his encouragement, patience and easy access, I would have taken a much longer period to complete this study. I am fortunate to have in him not only a guide, but also a philosopher, friend and a nice human being all rolled in one. I express my deep sense of gratitude to him.

I am grateful to Prof. K. Ramakrishna Reddy, Head, Sri Krishnadevaraya Institute of Management (SKIM) for giving me an opportunity to pursue my Ph.D in SKIM. I also express my gratitude to other faculty members of SKIM for their suggestions and help.

I am indebted to the Director, IIFHW, Commissioner F.W, Director Health, Government of Andhra Pradesh for permitting me to conduct the study in various institutions. My thanks are due to the concerned Principals of the Regional Training Centers, Project Officers of DTCs, and trainers at various training institutions; I am also indebted to trainees from various cadres for giving me their whole-hearted and enthusiastic support and cooperation.
