ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

For a long journey that spans years of work, there are many individuals whose support is instrumental in sustaining the drive to continuously retain the momentum to reach the goal. This acknowledgement is a thank you for all the support.

Dr. P N Mukherjee my guide for this research has always been the one whose confidence in my ability to complete what I commenced has exceeded my own, has always been the guide who so unassumingly offered suggestions and words of encouragement.

Dr. Mala Srivastava and Dr. Naresh Kumar are those who were the inspiration to set standards of achievement and stayed the continuous well-wishers, and in their competence could always be relied upon to verify the finer doubts as the work progressed.

Dr. Kavita Lagate and Dr. TN Srivastava have always been the statistical experts that were so vital in the quest of testing newer analytical methods and validating their accuracy, specially since the subject is the core speciality of the author and the need to excel in the department was pressing.

Dr. Kalim Khan and Dr. Sachdeva who so meticulously scanned the analysis and offered their suggestions during the synopsis Presentation, have been the catalyst in driving the search for more robust analytical methods.

Dr. Mathews who always accommodated and facilitated the progress of the work, providing valuable advice in order that the standards of documentation and presentation were adhered.

Dr Rajan Saxena , Vice Chancellor NMIMS and Dr Debasis Sanyal Dean NMIMS for their support and encouragement, always supporting when the research work required putting other assignments on a temporary backburner.
Sepecial thanks to the contribution in way of insights by industry experts, whose opinion was sought for undertaking the study, thank you Mayoor Malhotra, Om Prakash Sharma, and Rajeev Ludhiarich.

Primary data collection required enthusiastic participation, since the geographic locations for this work was spread across many states, special thanks to Anurag Agarwal, Balbir Singh, Mayoor Malhotra, Naresh Kumar, Cheytan Thakar and Pradeep M for assistance with the data collection from industry and Naresh Kumar, Akshay Kamat, Swapnil Desal, Darshan Patel, Ravishankar, Swapnil Nanakar, Aarti Laxman Dasake and Kunal Agarwal for assistance with data collection from rural areas.

Respondents across four Geographic’s of India were respondents to an exhaustive questionnaire and I must wholeheartedly thank them for their participation and contribution. The study also gained much analytical benefit from the response to questionnaires by Sr. Management of service providers, I am much obliged for the time spared to share their valuable inputs.

Family has always been an extension of every facet during the journey, the sounding board, the shoulder to lean on, the encouragement and pep during trying times and of course the well-wisher my heartfelt thanks to my husband Leslie, My sister Charulata and My mother Pramila for being all of this.
