ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It gives me great pleasure to express my deep sense of gratitude to my thesis supervisor and guide Dr. R. N. Pillai, former Professor and Head of the Department of Statistics, University of Kerala (presently Professor of Statistics, Centre for Mathematical Sciences, Vazhuthacaud, Trivandrum) for suggesting the problem of research and supervising me in the preparation of this thesis. I am greatly indebted to him for many valuable suggestions and discussions, constructive criticism and inspiring guidance throughout this study, without which this work could not have been completed.

I am also grateful to Dr. T. S. Krishnan Moothathu, Head of the Department of Statistics, University of Kerala for providing all facilities in the Department and also for encouraging me in my study. I am thankful to Shri K. Kalyanaraman, Reader, Department of Statistics, University of Kerala for encouraging me in this study and helping me in preparing the tables and drawing the figures. I express my gratitude to all teachers and staff of the Department of Statistics, University of Kerala who had been very co-operative and encouraging during the course of this work.

I express my deep sense of gratitude to Dr. A. M. Mathai, Professor, McGill University, Canada for encouraging me in my studies and also for sending me photocopies of many research papers which were not available here.

I am most grateful to my teachers and colleagues of the Departments of Mathematics and Statistics, St. Thomas College, Pala for all help and encouragements throughout this study. My thanks are also due to Prof. K. Ramakrishna Pillai and Prof. V. K. Ignatius. I express my sincere thanks to the Manager, Principal and Vice-Principal, St. Thomas College, Pala for granting me study leave for completing this work. I also thank the University Grants Commission, New Delhi for awarding me a one year teacher fellowship. I thank the Government of Kerala for granting me deputation for one year for completing this work.

It is with a deep sense of love and gratitude that I appreciate the patience of my wife and children, in spite of many difficulties, which helped me very much in the timely completion of this work. I also thank my parents, brothers and parents-in-law who did everything at home in my absence.

I must thank my friends Shri K. Jayakumar, Shri V. Anil and Shri Sebastian George who helped me in several ways in the completion of this thesis.

Jose, K. K. Kanichukattu
