ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The author is indebted to his supervisor, Dr. K.S. Subramoniam Nambooripad, Reader, Department of Mathematics, University of Kerala, for suggesting the investigations carried out in this thesis and also for his guidance and help in carrying out this work.

The author is grateful to the National Council of Educational Research and Training for awarding a National Science Talent Search scholarship for pursuing his studies.

The author is also grateful to Prof. Y. Sitaraman, Head, Department of Mathematics, University of Kerala, for providing facilities for carrying out this research work in the Department of Mathematics, University of Kerala and also for his constant encouragement.

Finally the author thanks his friends and colleagues for their encouragement throughout this work.