ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I cannot adequately express in words my profound sense of gratitude and sincere thanks to my guide Prof. P. Rama Rao, Former Professor and Head of the Department of Psychology, University of Madras, for his able guidance, valuable suggestions, and unstinted help given to me without which it would not have been possible to complete this work. His constant encouragement and keen interest has been a source of motivation to me throughout the course of this study.

My sincere thanks are due to Prof. S. Narayana Rao, Dean & Professor of Psychology, School of Social and Behavioural Sciences, for his suggestions and encouragement in my work.

I am also greatly indebted to Dr. I.G. Kannan, Faculty Member, Administrative Staff College of India, Hyderabad, for his valuable suggestions and considerable assistance which he extended to me.

My sincere thanks to Dr. K. Sivasankara Reddy, Head of the Department of Psychology and other staff members for the help provided during the completion of the research work.

I express my thanks to Dr. C. Subbarami Reddy, Reader in Statistics, Sri P. Balasiddamuni, Lecturer in Statistics, and Sri V. Kodandarami Reddy, Lecturer in Econometrics, S.V. University College, for their assistance and suggestions in statistical analysis. And I would also like to thank Sri S.N. Nagji, Head of the Department of English, S.G.S. Arts College and Sri G. Hemadri, Lecturer in English, S.V. Oriental College, for the help and co-operation extended to me in preparing the final draft.

I wish to express my thanks to all my friends who helped me in one way or other in the completion of this investigation.

I would like to express my warm appreciation to all the executives and organizations that gave me an opportunity to conduct this investigation. Their willingness to participate in the investigation facilitated the successful accomplishment of this research study.

My heartful gratitude to my mother, wife, and family members, for the encouragement they gave to me.

Finally, I am thankful to Mr. M. Munikrishna Reddy, Department of Psychology, for the efficient typing of my thesis.
