References
REFERENCES

Box 5716, Addis Ababa, Ethiopia; To Save the Children Fund (UK), Addis Ababa, Ethiopia.

9. Bea Abrahams and Helen Hajiyiannis, 2001: A baseline study to determine levels of knowledge, attitudes and practices in relation to reproductive health among male and female refugees aged between 10 and 24 years, living in Gauteng Province, South Africa, United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees.

15. Das, N.P and Shah, U, 2007: A study of Reproductive Health problems among men and women in urban slums with special reference to sexually transmitted infections, ICMR supported by, Population Research Centre, Faculty of Science, The Maharaja Suyaji Rao University of Baroda, Baroda, Gujarat, India.

17. Hosenara Begum and Rina Das, 2005: A study of sexual & reproductive knowledge, attitude & behaviour among adolescent school children, Adolescent Health Clinic Medical College & Hospital, Kolkata, and ADOLECON.

57. Register General and Census Commissioner of India, 2001: Census of India, 2001: C-series tables, Census Commissioner of India, New Delhi

59. Ricardo Vernon, 2004: Improving the Reproductive Health of Youth In Mexico, Population Council, Fundación Mexicana para la Planificación Familiar (MEXFAM),

